CIRCULATE PETITIONS FOR HOSPITAL AUTHORITY

Chamber of Commerce voices criticism and praise of village board

Parking still major problem

Merits of diagonal and parallel parking were informally discussed Monday evening by members of the village board. Before making a decision, definite figures will be gathered as to how much parking space is lost in parallel parking.

"Them are powerful words, pardner," would have been the thought of any member of Arlington Heights village board who might have listened-in Monday evening at the February meeting of the Chamber of Commerce. The village board received some panning and some praise.

They were panned because they had not solved the parking problem and their failure to act on the purchase of a new fire truck. The CC was so bold as to pass a motion that the village dads should not mix breeds in the selection of the truck.

ONE FIREMAN when asked his opinion, volunteerd the information that he believed a 750 gallon pumper exceeded the capacity of the water mains and fire hydrants within the business district. He said in part, "Our firemen are expected to be familiar with all of the fire fighting equipment. From an efficieney standpoint I agree with Mr. Hinz that all equipment should be standardized."

The recommendation to be sent the village board will suggest that the village adhere to the standardization principal.

Herman Hinz, new president of the Chamber of Commerce, precipitated a discussion of village affairs by calling for unfinished business.

FIRST ON THE LIST was the parking problem.

"Let the police be something more than just patrolmen; let them enforce existing parking rules," was suggested by one member. Another, "If we ask that parking rules be enforced, many of us business men will be paying fines." Members all agreed that solution of the parking problem was more important than new street lights and a motion was passed asking that street widening and adequate parking precede any installation of ornamental lights.

Among the suggestions given was the use of the theatre parking lot for commuter parking until 6 p. m. "Let the village assume responsibility for the maintenance of the lot," stated one member.

THE BUSINESS MEN think that present obsolete fire hydrants in the downtown area should be replaced with hydrants with streamer connections, the same as the hydrants "out in the sticks." The business men will ask the village to include the replacement of the present obsolete fire hydrants in any widening program of the business streets.

PRAISE FOR village dads and the police department for their part in the installation of FM police radio equipment was expressed by a number of those present. It took the form of a special motion directing the secretary to forward such approval to the two bodies.

Business men and especially members of the board of directors who do not take the time to attend chamber meetings also received some panning at the meeting. President Hinz in no uncertain words said that if a local Chamber of Commerce is worth while, it is worth supporting by the presence of members at the meetings as well as by their check sent by mail. "An inactive chamber is worse than none at all," stated Mr. Hinz.

Secretary Brown reported that the solicitation committee had turned down numerous requests for authority to canvass business houses and in his estimation, the average business man is being saved $10 a month by that committee.

THE DEAD LINE for copy to be inserted in the "hostess books" now being printed was February 25, according to the postal card notices sent to all members. Only 21 had returned the cards by Monday evening. Delinquent ones will have until Friday evening to be included in the list of business men welcoming newcomers to the community. The final check will be made by telephone Friday afternoon.

The Chamber will cooperate with the VFW in staging an Easter egg hunt next month.

President Hinz reported that arrangements for the July 4th celebration with the Legion were progressing nicely. In place of curtailing the plans of preceeding years, the 1948 event will be larger than ever with more and bigger prizes than ever. Tickets will be ready within the next ten days.

There was an excellent representation of members at the meeting, but as President Hinz said, "there is a big program waiting to be done and we need the cooperation of all members."

'Theft' siren calls police to bank corner

If you think your car is causing you trouble, listen to this lively tale of woe about an auto that wouldn't go.

Mrs. Leslie Grant, 211 N. Haddow, Arlington Heights, the protagonist in our story, had just received a driver's license after having completed a driver training course at the high school.

One day she drove the family car to the bank, where she works. After parking the car, she discovered that the left front wheel was stuck in an ice rut.

Mrs. Grant made several unsuccessful attempts to free the car and finally decided she would "worry about it" at lunch time. Came noon, she got into the car, "kicked the starter," and whirred the wheels. Nothing happened.

At this point she remembered she had placed a coat on the back seat of the car and, recalling the recent wave of coat thefts, turned on a master alarm switch. The car was wired with a siren-sounding alarm system to prevent thefts.

Feeling certain that everything was "secure," at least for the time being, Mrs. Grant went home for lunch and just as she started to eat she heard what she thought was the fire siren.

Presently the phone rang. It was the bank.

"The water department wants you to come down to please turn off that confounded alarm in your car," she was told.

Shocked and chagrined, she ran back every foot of the way, managed to wade through an amused crowd of spectators and turned off the contraption. The ensuing peace, which was wonderful, had a dispelling effect on the mob.

The workers from the water department explained that their only interest in the Grant car was to move it away from a drain, over which it was parked, so that melting snow could run into the drain. When they opened the car door to release the emergency brake, they had not noticed a warning on the side of the car describing the alarm installation.

Mrs. Grant's comment?

"All that car trouble in one day, and I wasn't even driving the darn thing."

Evaluate our community

In Judge Braude's lecture at the high school in the Woman's Club Sunday Evening Lecture Series, he listed a number of things which play a part in the lives of children who get into trouble. It is well to study these elements, and to evaluate our community in the light of his suggestions.

Our schools are doing a splendid job in offering extra curricular activities to our young people. They also have valuable advisory programs for the guidance of students. Their social and athletic programs are sound and popular. The churches have active groups of young people. Four-H clubs flourish. The Boy and Girl Scout movements are well established, and growing so fast that many more adult volunteers are needed to carry out these character building activities. Ramble Inn, with its trained, understanding leadership, supplies the need for organization and social contacts of our teen age youth.

Are our homes doing the job Judge Braude believes they must to eradicate the predisposing factors he mentioned? While some may seem contrary to our own experience, Judge Braude's long and intimate association with boys gives authority to his words, and it would seem only sensible to eliminate as much as possible any and all elements which could possibly condition a child in the wrong way. However, it would be useless for one mother in a block to refuse to give her child toy guns to play with if the youngsters next door and across the street are well supplied, and want to play nothing but cops and robbers or G-Man all day long. The same holds true in the case of improper movies, comics and radio programs. It must be a concerted effort.

'New neighbor' on Cancer radio show

Paul E. Prentiss, 225 Windsor drive, one of the "new neighbors" in Arlington Heights, and an announcer on the Mutual broadcasting system, will be one of the featured radio personalities on the benefit show sponsored by the Arlington Heights Woman's club on March 12 for its cancer fund drive.

Prentiss, who prefers to be called "Ed," is the heroic Captain Midnight on the radio show of the same name and claims that this is his favorite role.

"I get a big kick out of doing Captain Midnight," he says. "After I portray one of his radio adventures, it's always somewhat of a surprise to find myself back in Chicago."

Among Prentiss' other radio jobs are quiz master on "Ladies Be Seated," and audience participation show; master of ceremonies on the Bowman Milk Wagon program; and narrator on "This is the Story."

He also is news announcer on NBC and reads commercials for the same station.

Prentiss, an actor "by chance," went to law school at the University of Iowa at Iowa City, got his degree and came to Chicago. Acting was in his blood, however, and eventually he drifted into radio.

His first break was a part as John in the daytime serial "Painted Dreams." After that, he got other jobs announcing and "emceeing."

"I'm glad to offer my services to the Woman's club in Arlington," Prentiss asserted. "I think their project is a worthy one."

Grass fires have an early start

Although Arlington Heights ordinances strictly forbid the starting of prairie fires unless the authorities are notified, two fire calls were received by the police the past week. They were on Derbyshire Lane and Windsor Drive.

Fire Chief Winkleman answered both of them, but found it unnecessary to call out the department which would have cost the village approximately $50.

Proposition to go on ballot at November election

Following a recent meeting of physicians and others interested at the Glenview village hall, petiotions were put into circulation asking that the Cook county court authorize the placing on the ballot next November of a proposition establishing a hospital authority to be known as the "Northwest Suburban Hospital Authority."

THE TERRITORY to be included are the townships of Wheeling and Northfield and the villages of Arlington Heights, Wheeling, Northbrook, Glenview, Morton Grove, Mt. Prospect and Golf. The general committee of which Judge Hanson, Glenview, is chairman, will be augmented by local committees to be named by the physicians of the individual towns.

Assurances of support to the movement were also given by the non-doctors, who had been requested to sit in at this meeting.

"It is too early," Mr. Hanson told those in attendance, "to talk about a definite site or the hospital cost. Those are matters which should be presented to the voters before the election in November. Our job is to get the proposition on the ballot."

VOLUNTEER workers are expected to complete the petitions inside of thirty days. The law requires 500 signatures. The committee is asking for 2,500, which in their estimation would be a true expression of the interest of the general public.

Dr. Carr, Arlington Heights physician explained to the Herald Tuesday why new hospital facilities are so greatly needed. He said, "the expansion of hospital plans is making possible that service to hundreds of families who would ordinarily remain at home." Dr. Leckband asserted, "the hospitals are becoming so crowded that it is even difficult to find a hospital bed for emergency life-saving cases."

LOSES $50 IN ARLINGTON BUSINESS DISTRICT

Mrs. Loveland, 721 S. Mitchell, is depending upon the good neighbor spirit of some Arlington Heights resident to return to her the billfold that she lost Tuesday afternoon between Gieseke's store and the candy shop. She is ready to pay a liberal reward. Any information will be gratefully received by her. Phone 1962-J.

Judge Braude tells of human approach to youthful crime problem

Sign posts of juvenile delinquency:

Judge Braude, who was the speaker Sunday evening at the third number of the evening lectures sponsored by Arlington Heights Woman's club, has reached certain conclusions that are the factors which predispose young people to delinquency and crime.

Here they are:

1. The influence of destructive toys and games.

It does not necessarily follow that children who play with such toys will become delinquent, but it has been proven that such play makes it easier for youths to commit unsocial acts. The Judge suggested substitution of more wholesome playthings.

2. The influence of improper literature.

It is a fact that boys have read these highly imaginative magazines, etc., and have gone out to duplicate the adventures in real life. He deplored the millions of dollars spent yearly on these publications which are poorly printed, poorly colored and poorly written. He urged the channeling of the reading of our youth.

3. Marijuana, sometimes called hashish or Indian hemp.

4. Alcohol.

In from 20 to 35% of all cases of youthful crime, the element of alcohol is present. Judge Braude explained the difficulty of enforcing the law regarding sale to minors.

5. Radio, movies and comic strips.

Much of the present offerings show a distorted picture of life. Their efforts to teach that "crime does not pay," have backfired. The Judge suggested that concerted efforts on the part of organizations as well as personal letters to publishers, sponsors and broadcasters might improve the quality of such entertainment.

6. The automobile—particularly the jalopy the con cannot afford.

7. Unsupervised clubs or groups. Judge Braude emphasized the desirability of schools and churches being open day and evening, boys' clubs, and other gathering places for wholesome social activity.

8. Idleness and unemployment. The idle boy looks for easy money. We must find jobs for our young men, through private enterprise or public works. The C.C.C. made a marked difference in court records.

9. Broken homes.

In Judge Braude's experience, this has been a paramount predisposing factor in youthful crime. Broken homes—physically, or from within—where there is no love, force their children to seek warmth and pleasure elsewhere. Behavior patterns are formed within the home by example. In closing, Judge Braude read two poems, which by request are being printed in full.

Judge Braude has had long association with boys in clubs, camps, boy scout work, and in his years on the bench, he has tried to find out what gets young people in trouble.

The third of the series of Sunday Evening Lectures presented by the Arlington Heights Woman's club was to have been on "America's Business," by Dr. Lester Schriver. A heart attack during a broadcast on Sunday morning prevented Dr. Schriver's appearance, but the Woman's Club committee secured a splendid replacement in Judge J. M. Braude, whose subject was what he called "everybody's business."

Judge Braude has been Judge of the famed Chicago Boys' Court since 1935. This attempt at a human approach to the problem of youthful crime was established in 1914, and until recently, when the cities of New York and Philadelphia set up similar courts, was the only institution of its kind in the United States.

JUDGE BRAUDE likes bad boys. He does not like them for their badness, but for whatever potential good there is in them. He believes that you do not help human beings or salvage human souls by sending them to jail.

To explain the philosophy behind this thinking, Judge Braude recounted the life story of one of 20,000 cases which have passed before him. He was a 17 year old first offender, facing a sentence of from one year to life.

Using every resource at his command—the lie detector, social and psychiatric service, Judge Braude was able to learn the truth about the lad, and decided he should have one more chance.

A JOB WAS found for him, and two weeks room and board was paid for through the special Boys' Court Rehabilitation fund. He was given a chance to take technical training at one of the Chicago high schools, and at last report, he was doing well, in the army.

The system works. Of all the boys given second chances, 72% do not come back while still of boys' court age—from 17 to 21. Judge Braude believes that until we extract every bit of good there is in any boy, we have no right to put him on the discard heap. He pointed out, however, that unfortunately, such cases are the exception rather than the rule.

He recited the usual tragic record—Juvenile Court, Boys' Court—House of Correction—Penitentiary. All too often the behavior patterns of these young men are well set by the time they come into Boys' Court. It is too late to use the technique of finding out why the person did the thing he did, and working backward, eliminating the factors which made him go wrong. Crime prevention must be made to begin in the high chair and not in the electric chair.

Weekly amateur show starts at Arlington Theater Saturday

Perhaps one or more of these amateurs who are appearing in the Arlington Theater amateur show Saturday will some day be a movie star. At least they will be able to say they received their start in the local theater. From left to right they are: Top row: Jon Busse, clarinet; Pat Calahan, singer; Judy Gilman, acrobatic dancer; John Lee, singer. Bottom row: Geo. H. Sheppard, Jr., accordion; Dorothy May Holding, singer; Virginia Carroll, accordion. Community Camera

Singing, dancing, and instrument playing are the themes of the first seven acts of amateur talent to be shown at the Arlington Theater Saturday, February 28.

Charles Schiller, Arlington high school student, will act as master of ceremonies. Following the showing of the movie, "Last of the Redmen," which begins at 1:30, the youngsters will all join in a community sing.

THE MC WILL then introduce the various acts. There will be two accordion soloists, Virginia Carroll and George Sheppard, both of Prospect Heights. Patsy Callahan, John Lee and Dorothy May Holding, will each sing solos. These three youngsters are all from Arlington Heights.

Judy Gilman will do an acrobatic dance, and Jon Busse will display his talent on the clarinet. Judy and Jon also live in Arlington Heights.

Winners of the show will be chosen by audience applause. First and second place winners will receive gift certificates from Baylor's Firestone store. Third and fourth place prizes will be theater tickets given by Don Knapp, theater manager.

ONCE A MONTH a Saturday evening show will feature the first and second place winners of each weekly contest, thus giving the adults a chance to see all the talent present in Arlington Heights.

Boys and girls who would like to appear in one of these amateur shows should fill out the application found elsewhere in this week's Herald. These shows are open to boys and girls not only in Arlington Heights, but in other nearby communities.

Further details may be obtained by calling Mrs. W. P. Scholz, Arlington Heights 1384-R, or Mrs. J. M. Bosch, Arlington Hts. 1705.

Speed-up of tax bills little aid to taxing bodies

Property owners interested in the size of their new tax bills under the quadrennial reassessment will not have to be on the anxious seat as long as was first contemplated. There has been a speed up in the posting of the individual assessments. The speedup, however, is not expected to save taxing bodies the two months of additional interest on tax warrants due to the postponement of the tax penalty dates.

TWO MONTHS DELAY occurred in the assessor's office as the assessment cards are new this year because of the end of a 16-year period. Assessments are normally computed every four years on the same cards.

The field books have been forwarded to county clerk's office for entry on the tax warrant books which will take four weeks. The cards will then be returned to the central service department for computation of the state equalization figure, which is expected to take 30 days.

County health survey finds many communities not 'health' protected

What action has been taken by suburban Cook county on the hundreds of recommendations made by the Chicago-Cook county health survey?

Most of the suburbs have "shown interest," reports the survey's "partial report of progress," but few have taken any real action.

The survey, conducted by the United States public health service, examined every phase of health protection operated publicly or privately in this area.

IN ITS REPORT on restaurants, the survey revealed:

"In the suburbs, 97 per cent of the establishments surveyed disregarded disinfection of dishes and utensils and proper disposal of wastes; 93 per cent were deficient in toilet facilities; and 84 per cent ignored correct cleaning equipment.

In discussing water supply, the survey stated:

"Of the municipalities in Cook county with well water, 14 have no chlorination facilities. Another hazard is the fact that replacement of broken water mains or the installation of new mains without disinfection is commonly practised. Also, few of the 77 municipalities maintaining a public water supply have personnel competent by training or experience to undertake an adequate sanitary survey of the systems."

THE SURVEY proposed a metropolitan water system to serve, besides Chicago, 143 cities in Cook, Lake and DuPage counties and adjacent communities in Lake county, Ind.

"Such a system is not only desirable, but would provide a more economical means of safeguarding public health in these communities, most of which offer potentially unsafe drinking water.

"Of 89 incorporated communities in Cook county, 63 are furnishing water that does not meet the drinking water standards of the U. S. public health service. Twelve of the 89 municipalities have no public water supply.

STEPS TAKEN in suburban Cook county since the issuance of the survey are: according to the progress report:

"The suburban areas have been stimulated to re-examining their health programs. Oak Park, a community of 70,000 population, which was found to have 8 or 10 agencies providing public health nursing, has now completed plans for merging all of the nursing services under the voluntary auspices of one community agency.

"The establishment of a tuberculosis sanitarium district was approved for Cook county outside of Chicago in the November, 1947, elections. This will assure the development of adequate tuberculosis controll."

THERE WAS no mention in the progress report of action by suburbs on material and child health, public health nursing, housing, school health services, mental hygiene, nutrition, dental health services, cancer control, personnel policies and practices or medical social service.

Morton Grove C. O. loses job, failed to make gambling raids

Commanding officer of the Morton Grove station since October, James B. Folson was suspended "indefinitely" Tuesday by Sheriff Elmer Michael Walsh.

The sheriff said the suspension, without pay, was because of gambling activities in the district.

Replacing Lt. Folson with the title of acting lieutenant is Sgt. Fred Horton, a former Army Military Police lieutenant colonel.

"Folson hasn't kept the pressure on gambling in the district to the extent which I demand," Sheriff Walsh said in announcing the suspension. "There have been several raids by Chief Albert H. Johnson from the county building which Folson should have made."

Pre-Fabs on display at Wilke, NW highway

Arlington has been hearing a lot about pre-fab construction. Residents do not have to take any one's word for the manner in which they are constructed and the speed in which they can be completed. Last Thursday the outside materials were delivered upon a lot at the corner of Wilke and Northwest Highway. Within 24 hours, a three-room cottage was completed. This week workmen are expected to start Wednesday on the interior and by Saturday the building will be ready for inspection.

Arlington Pre-Fabs are putting this and other pre-fab structures on display at the above site. "All we ask," states the company, "is that interested persons withhold judgment until after they see for themselves the class of construction used in the houses and garages.

Arlington Heights Red Cross fund chairman appointed

Forrest Davis has been appointed as local Red Cross fund raising chairman, as recommended by Arlington Post No. 981, Veterans of Foreign Wars. The quota for Arlington Heights for 1948 is $2,900.

"A list of the zone chairmen is not available," says Mr. Davis as we go to press. "The procedure of the drive has not yet been determined, but if the necessary organization work can be completed, it is quite probable that the drive will be held on a 'one-night' basis."

Arlington Heights has always gone "over-the-top" of the quota set for this community, and even though the local drive will be delayed somewhat by the late appointment of a fund chairman, Davis reports that Nat T. Burfeind is assisting in the organization for the current fund raising drive.

Next week's issue of the Herald will feature a list of the zone chairmen and complete plans for the local Red Cross fund raising campaign.

The Herald reminds its readers that a stronger America emerges as the cares of the needy and distressed are relieved. The Red Cross is simple and easy to understand; in all it does the Red Cross depends on you. Give as generously as you can when your neighbor calls for your contribution.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 22, was:

"MIND"

The Golden Text was:

"Who hath known the mind of the Lord, that he may instruct him?" (I Cor. 2: 16).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon, the following were from the Bible:

"And Moses said unto God, Behold, when I come unto the children of Israel and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you; and they shall say unto me, What is his name? What shall I say unto them? And God said unto Moses, I AM THAT I AM: and he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you" (Ex. 3: 13, 14).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy:

"Mind is the I AM or infinity . . . Allness is the measure of the infinite, and nothing less can express God. . . . The Scriptures imply that God is All-in-All. From this it follows that nothing possesses reality nor existence except the divine Mind and His ideas . . . He is all inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal and by nothing else. He fills all space, and it is impossible to conceive of such omnipresence and individuality except as infinite Spirit or Mind" (pp. 336, 331).

Increase Pasture Season

The pasture season in Missouri has been increased from 6 to 7½ months by adoption of research results of the Missouri station. The extra feed obtained from the improved pastures and longer season is equivalent to 37 millions bushels of corn and is worth nearly 30 million dollars when corn is valued at 80 cents per bushel.

Brownie Troop 16

The last meeting of Brownie Troop 16, Arlington Heights, was held February 19. The Brownie promise and songs started the meeting.

A tonette solo by Elaine Kochton was then given. After refreshments the girls worked on program plans for this spring. Games were played, after which the meeting was closed.

Community to hear Naomi Watson sing negro spirituals

A "Story-Recital" on "Negro Spirituals," sung by Miss Naomi Watson, leading concert contralto, and assisted and accompanied by Miss Claire McMurtry, will be offered to music lovers of the northwest suburbs, 7:30 p.m. next Sunday, February 29th, at the First Methodist Church of Palatine.

Naomi Watson will be introduced by Claire McMurtry who will relate some of the high-lights of Miss Watson's career.

Miss Watson will intersperse her songs with interesting comments on the origin and development of the wealth of spirituals which constitute America's greatest contribution to the folk-music of the world.

Though this program is sponsored by and in the First Methodist Church of Palatine, it is entirely undenominational. A free will offering will be taken to be given to the artists.

Radio show to benefit cancer research fund

Proceeds from the radio show on March 12 sponsored by the Arlington Heights Woman's club will be given to the American Cancer society and to the University of Chicago Cancer Research foundation.

Linking of the local drive with the work of these nation-wide organizations was told to the club's radio show committee by Mrs. Paul F. Koenig and Mrs. Carl Ewert, who made the arrangements for the donation of the radio show funds.

Mrs. Koenig and Mrs. Ewert, who were guests Monday of Maurice Goldblatt, president of the board of trustees of the University of Chicago Cancer Research foundation, attended a preview of films on cancer research while in Chicago and brought back pertinent information to club members.

They also heard Dr. John A. Rogers, executive director of the American Cancer society, Illinois division, speak on cancer control.

"More than 1,000 tickets already have been sold," Mrs. Koenig stated, "and ticket sales will be closed March 11 or as soon as all 1500 tickets have been sold."

There will be no ticket sales at the door the night of the program.

For the benefit of radio listeners who would like a preview of the entertainment that will be featured on the club's "Parade of Stars" show, the Herald is listing here the radio performers who will appear on the local variety program and the times at which they can be heard over Chicago-aired networks.

George Watson, who will be master of ceremonies on the local show, can be heard over WBBM at 3:30 p.m.; the King's Jesters, WBBM at 8:15 a.m.; Paul Gibson, WBBM, 8:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.; Louise King and Billy Leach, WBBM at 8 p.m. Tuesday and 10 p.m. Saturday; Ed Prentiss, WGN at 5:30 p.m. and 10 p.m.; and Aunt Fanny, WENR at 8 a.m.

Tickets, $1.20 for adults and 90 cents for students, tax included, can be purchased at Lohr's Drug store and Jack's Swirl shop in Arlington Heights; Kenning Dry Goods store in Mt. Prospect; Prospect Heights Hardware store in Prospect Heights; and Benjamin Electric company in Des Plaines.

To have Men's Sunday at Presbyterian church

February 29 will be Men's Sunday in the First Presbyterian church, Arlington Heights.

A men's chorus under the direction of J. D. Bryson, will sing the anthem, "Rise Up O Lord of God," by William P. Merrill. The sermon will be, "Less Sail and More Anchor." Every man of the church is invited to be present, bringing his family and a guest.

The 1947 General Assembly designated February 29, 1948, as Men's Sunday in the Presbyterian churches. The pastor, elders and men members of all official bodies of the Arlington Heights church, as well as Men's organizations, are requested to help make the day one of re-dedication of all men in the church to Christ and the church.

It has been estimated that, of men members of the church, only one in five is using the power of the church as the day demands. Six hundred and fifty thousand Presbyterian men must be alerted for action, for Christ, the church, the home, and the world!

Farm Tenants Decrease

Farm tenancy declined rapidly during the past five years so that less than one-third of the nation's farms are operated by tenants, according to census figures.

About Electric Blankets and Comforters

. . . new contributions to Better Living

FOR many years the Public Service Company has helped to introduce many useful electrical appliances into Northern Illinois homes. Now we feel it is timely to inform the public of another new use of electricity . . . electric blankets and comforters. Here are some facts about them.

Electric blanket production during the war was restricted so that electrically heated flying suits could be manufactured for the Air Forces. In the development of these flying suits, a great amount of research and testing was done. Because of the extreme temperatures encountered by the flyers (as low as 60 degrees below zero) and the hard usage given the suits by the bomber crews, a fine, extremely flexible wire was needed. As a result, a wiring system was developed that was so sturdy it outlived the fabric.

They Are Dependable

All the research and testing accomplished during the war years has contributed directly to the dependable and efficient operation of these new electric bed coverings. Tiny thermostats provide protection from possible overheating due to abuse. Leading brands are approved by Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., and those we offer for sale have been thoroughly tested and approved by Public Service Company's own testing laboratory.

Ordinary bed covers can only insulate the body from changing room temperatures. It is the heat of the body and the number of covers added that controls the temperature in the bed. In order to be perfectly comfortable with ordinary covers in a room where the temperature is constantly changing, they would have to be added and removed throughout the night.

With only one electric blanket or comforter, the proper amount of warmth is maintained throughout the night regardless of changing temperatures. The warmth given by the electrically heated cover is a gentle heat that can barely be felt by the hand. The bedside control regulates the heat automatically, and provides many degrees of warmth from which to choose. With only one cover per bed needed the bedmaking problem is simplified. It means easier cleaning and storing when not in use, too.

Many Types Available

There are several types of electric bed coverings —a blanket designed for a double bed with a dual temperature control so two people in the same bed can select the degree of warmth each wants for his half of the bed. Another is a satin comforter which operates like the blanket. And still another type of blanket operates on the same general principle as the others but the temperature is electronically controlled by the temperature of the bed rather than that of the room. Electric bed coverings are available in a variety of attractive colors, and in both twin and double bed sizes.

Care is No Problem

Electric blankets can be washed the same as any other fine piece of wool. They are certified washable by the American Institute of Laundering and many good laundries will wash them for you. The electric comforter has a sheet containing the wires which is removable for washing. The satin covering is cleaned like an ordinary comforter.

What you sleep under is just as important to sleeping comfort as what you sleep on. Electric bed coverings, the first important improvement in sleeping comfort in many years, are a major addition to the long list of conveniences which electricity has brought to the American home. Users are unanimous in expressing their satisfaction with this new contribution to their comfort.

PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY OF NORTHERN ILLINOIS

Furrier to show Arctic trips to Northbrook sports club

Martin Victor, Highland Park furrier, who has made winter trips to the Arctic Circle 23 times in the last 25 years, will lecture and show colored movies of his adventures at the regular March 1 meeting of the Northbrook sports club, to be held Monday night at River Inn, Wagner road just north of Lake Avenue.

The program is of such unusual interest, members have decided to make it a "Ladies Night" affair. The meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

In addition to showing colored movies of "Trapping Furs North of the Arctic Circle," Mr. Victor will describe all steps in the processing of a mink coat.

ON HIS ANNUAL excursions Mr. Victor, who operates a fur store, combines business with a shivery sort of pleasure. He usually rides air liners to Fort Yukon, hires a plane, loads his dog team, sled and supplies aboard and sets out for a trap line. The bush pilot deposits him on a snow trail and, from there on, he is more or less on his own.

Mushing along, he buys pelts from trappers and at trading posts in Indian and Eskimo villages. The bush pilot returns periodically with more food, flies his fare to a new territory and carries the accumulated fur cargo back to Fort Yukon.

VICTOR LOSES about 20 pounds on each trip and comes back in fine physical shape. The weather dictates his attire of the day. His basic getup includes long sil kunderwear topped by wollen "longies," silk socks inside woolen hose, breeches or ski trousers, a woolen shirt, fur "mukhiks," and knitted woolen mittens under long moose leather gloves.

When it is 40 below or less frigid, Victor wears a fur trimmed, lined canvas parka. When it is windy or colder, he gets into a fur parka. When the temperature drops to 65 below or lower, he pays an Indian squaw $2 to wrap his feet and lower part of his legs in an insulating layer of flat grass.

"When it's 25 below or warmer, I never use a parka," Victor says. "The greatest danger is in overdressing. If you overdress, you start perspiring, and you have no way to throw off the heat and moisture. So you get wet and freeze."

BESIDES FOOD for himself and his Malemutes, Victor carries a couple of guns for shooting rabbits or partridge to supplement his rations. He also totes a note book — for recording, phoneticaly, the various native dialects.

"You travel 100 miles," he explains, "and you have to learn a new lingo."

During treks that have taken him as far as 70 miles north of the Arctic Circle, Victor has reduced the problem of camping out to a simple routine. He chains the dogs to different trees, puts up a tarpaulin lean-to, gathers wood, builds a roaring fire, digs down 18 inches for fine granulated snow, and brews tea. Frequently, however, he finds a bunk in a lonely hut.

"YOU NEVER PASS by a cabin without stopping in for a cup of coffee," he says. "You never pass anybody on the trail without stopping to talk. That's an insult in Alaska."

Mr. Victor has learned much of the lore of the Far North in his 23 years of trekking through the Alaskan wilderness, and his lecture and movies will make Monday's night meeting one that will be remembered by members of the Northbrook Sports club and their lady guests.

Executive board reviews progress of scout troops

by ARNOLD HATCH

Twenty-eight members of N. W. S. council executive board met at St. Peter Lutheran school, Arlington Heights, February 18, to review scout progress for 1947 and hear an address by Dick Newcomb, deputy regional executive of region 7.

Stan Huntington, scout executive, gave a very thorough and excellent report in graphic form showing 1947 achievements worked out in percentages covering personnel and organization, operating expense and budget, advancement, camping and activities, health, safety and membership giving a vivid picture which clearly depicted strong points as well as weaknesses of the 1947 program.

DICK NEWCOMB in a short address, stressed the importance of such activities as the double track meetings, scoutmaster roundtables as an aid in giving ideas for programs, leadership training should be more thorough, outdoor camping should be encouraged because the scoutmaster is the important leader who brings the program directly to the boy and he, together with his boys, should be urged to spend at least one week in outdoor summer camping. Dick declared that the progress made by N.W.S. council was praiseworthy to say the least in comparison with the 9 other council which comprise region 7, pointing out that N.W.S. council was one of the four councils that had more cubs than scouts, which is an outstanding record in itself.

Bill Kratt, council finance chairman, reported that finance drives are well under way and he thanked Bill Miles, John Gillick, and Nick Lattof for their contribution of several hundred dollars to the new outdoor camp fund. Plans for a drive to raise $100,000 for the development of the Funk Lake camp are materializing rapidly and the drive should be started in a few months, stated Bill.

AL WHITTON, council training chairman, announced that he intends to send 15 picked leaders to Lake Geneva, Wis., this year for scout leadership training and his committee has planned an extensive training program for 1948, which he hopes will far exceed 1947.

Al Baker, outdoor camp commissioner, said camping facilities were limited at Twin Lakes, Wis., although they will be able to accomodate some N. W. S. council scouts this year, but none in 1949, so it becomes more urgent than ever to establish an outdoor camp at Funk Lake, Wis.

District chairman, Wente, Wax Foote and Wetmore reported progress encouraging, John Speer, organization chairman, said for the most part progress is satisfactory and Marty Hapeman, advancement chairman, declared he was not so well pleased with the advancement progress, and he urges that more attention be given to the first class scout ceremony. Bill Ziebell, health and safety chairman, stated that first aid and basic training should be encouraged because many instances have occurred where scouts have been able to save lives as a result of their knowledge of first aid.

Dave Lewis, council president, introduced these newly elected council members: Willard McDowell, Blackhawk district commissioner; Cecil Nixon, Skokie commissioner; Blair Plimpton, executive board member; Bill Davis, Algonquin commissioner; Jim Wax, district chairman; Orville Wente, district one chairman; John Speer, organization chairman.

A DELICIOUS swiss steak dinner with all of the trimmings was served by the Ladies Aid of St. Peter Lutheran school.

Among the executive board members present were Dick Newcomb, Dave Lewis, Bill Kratt, Al Baker, John Bell, Bill Miles, Frank Potter, Al Whitton.

Big year ahead for Ag. boys at Arlington

Variety is the word when it comes to describing the projects to be raised by students who are studying vocational agriculture at the Arlington Heights Township high school.

Having an actual project is one of the requirements of the students, which makes the course more practical; and a look at the preliminary project report gives the impression that the boys really will get a great deal of experience first hand.

The boys will have fifteen different kinds of enterprises. J. D. Bryson, vocational agriculture teacher, states an opinion that it is more kinds of crops and livestock than will be reported by any other of the four hundred and fifty schools in the state, which have a program for vocational agriculture.

Included on the list are dairy, beef, chickens, ducks, onions, soybeans, oats, tomatoes, peppers, sweet corn, parsley, raspberries, asters and carnations.

The students will keep records on their operations and next fall a summary will be made. Comparison and discussion of the entire group should be of value to the individual "future farmer" in planning additional work.

Rummage sale

The St. Peter Lutheran Dorcas Aid of Arlington Heights will hold a rummage sale Saturday morning, February 28, in the Lutheran school basement. Doors open at 10:00 a. m.

Articles for the sale should be brought to the school the day before the sale. If a pick up is desired, call Arlington Heights 1788-J.

'Miracle' Surgery Removes Pin From Child's Stomach

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nelsen of Roselle have their two year old daughter back home again from St. Joseph's hospital in Elgin where a neat bit of painless surgery removed an ornamental pin which the child had swallowed and which threatened her life.

THE PIN which bore a design of a skate was picked up Saturday night by Barbara Jean. How she swallowed it, her parents cannot say, as they were not aware that anything was wrong with her until Sunday morning.

She was taken to the hospital where x-ray revealed the pin lodged in her stomach. A diet of cotton and ice cream was prescribed and on Monday, 24 hours later, x-ray pictures showed the pin had moved only slightly. But on Tuesday the miracle happened, the child had passed the pin embedded in the cotton and showed no ill effects after her ordeal.

MR. NELSEN who is a section hand on the Milwaukee Road, says that the Nelsen family is the happiest in Roselle.

Scarsdale association to meet Friday night

The second monthly meeting for 1948, of the Scarsdale Property Owners' association, will be held at the American Legion hall Friday evening, February 27, at 8 p. m.

The new officers, trustees and committeemen are now firmly established in their jobs and plans are shaping up for what is believed will be the most successful year in the association's history. Further programs developed beyond those presented at the January get-together will be presented for the approval of the membership. Beautification and maintenance of grounds and parkways, social events and other matters will be discussed. As is customary, a social hour will follow the business session.

Plans are being made to invite the heads of other civic organizations of Arlington Heights to the March meeting, and further details will be announced Friday.

GI 'Ag.' meeting Friday

Veterans wishing to enroll in the "On-the-job" agriculture course starting April 1 should report to the agriculture room of the Arlington Heights township high school Friday, February 27, at 3:00 p. m.

At that time J. D. Bryson, instructor, will hand out the G. I. Ag. Form 18 which must be completed and returned about March 15. Bryson will send them, along with V. A. Form 7-1921, to the State Board for Vocational Education at Springfield for approval.

Failure to get this done will cause veterans to wait another three months, or until July 1, to try again for enrollment.

Improvement ass'n. of Arlington Park, Ridge to meet Tuesday

The community improvement association comprising residents of the Arlington Park and Arlington Ridge subdivisions will meet in the Arlington Heights village hall, at 8 p. m., Tuesday, March 2.

Since the last meeting in the autumn, officers of the association pointed out, the population of the subdivisions forming the northwest community of Arlington Heights has substantially increased, until there are now at least 140 families in the area the association serves.

On the program for the Tuesday meeting are several subjects that association officers described as increasingly important. Discussions of zoning, community services, and various aspects of community improvement, besides more routine organizational affairs, will be included on the agenda.

All residents of Arlington Park and Arlington Ridge have been invited to the Tuesday meeting, whether or not they have as yet formally joined the organization.

If I Had a Boy

If I had a boy, I would say to him, Son,
Be fair and be square in the race you must run,
Be brave if you lose and be meek if you win,
Be better and nobler than I've ever been,
Be honest and fearless in all that you do,
And honor the name I have given to you.

If I had a boy, I would want him to know,
We reap in this life just about as we sow,
And we get what we earn, be it little or great,
Regardless of luck and regardless of fate,
I would teach him and show him, the best that I could,
That it pays to be honest and upright and good.

I would make him a pal and a partner of mine,
And show him the things in this world that are fine,
I would show him the things that are wicked and bad,
For I figure this knowledge should come from his Dad,
I would walk with him, talk with him, play with him, too,
And to all of my promises strive to be true.

We would grow up together and I'd be a boy,
And share his trouble and share his joy,
We would work out our problems together and then,
We would lay out our plans when we both would be men.
And Oh! what a wonderful joy it would be,
No pleasure in life could be greater for me.

Poster contest to depict movie pests

Students in the seventh and eighth grades of all public and parochial schools in Arlington Heights have the opportunity to join the "movie pests" poster contest.

The Illinois Federation of Women's clubs is sponsoring the contest and all entries must be in by March 15. A contribution toward "good citizenship" by making people aware of their behavior in the theater, is the purpose of the contest.

Rules for the contest are as follows:

1. Contest ends no later than March 15.
2. Contestants must be in the 7th and 8th grade in the district where the contest is being conducted, in public or parochial schools.
3. Posters may be words, pictures, pictures and words, whichever will convey the idea most attractively.
4. Materials may be paints, crayons, colored papers, cut-outs or ink, no chalk.
5. Final poster should be 22 inches by 14 inches.
6. The more annoyances on one poster the better. Movie pest theme will be given preference over artistic talent.

Don Knapp, manager of the Arlington Theater is cooperating wholeheartedly in the contest with Mrs. Albert Reed, the local chairman of the motion picture department. Prizes will be awarded for each of the seventh and eighth grades, the posters to be displayed in the theater lobby before they are entered in the Seventh District contest. There will also be district and state prizes.

Other details of the contest are being handled through the art department of each school.

Reminder to voters: registration changes accepted March 1, 2, 3

Cook county voters will have a last chance to correct their registration cards for the April primaries. Changes can be made March 1, 2 and 3. There will be no precinct registrations this time.

To be eligible to register for voting, a person must have lived in the state of Illinois for the past year, in Cook county for 90 days and in his particular precinct for 30 days, according to Village Clerk Forrest Davis.

Davis will accept registration changes at the village hall, Arlington Heights, during regular business hours March 1, 2 and 3. He will be at the clerk's office in the village hall Wednesday, March 3, from 7 to 9 p. m. for the accommodation of persons who cannot take care of changes during regular business hours.

Arlington Heights

New states claim three Heights families

Three Arlington Heights families, who have lived here between seven and ten years, plan to move to new sections of the country this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eppig, 306 Windsor drive, will make their new home in New York City. Of course they will also be accompanied by their four children, Art Jr., Bobby, Dick and Mary Jane. The three boys were all students at St. James Catholic school.

Mr. Eppig is an architect and is building a new subdivision on Long Island, thus the family are moving to New York so that Mr. Eppig may be nearer his work.

New Mexico climate is what is enticing Mr. and Mrs. Edward Haisler, 305 S. Dunton ave., to leave Arlington Heights after living here eight years. They will not only move themselves to Albuquerque, N. M., but plan to move their brush manufacturing business, now located in Chicago, down there, too.

The Haislers have had this brush business in the family for 50 years, with Chicago being its central location during that time. It was originally owned by Mr. Haisler's father and is now run by Mr. Haisler and his brother, LeRoy.

A potluck family dinner was held Saturday evening at the Guy Baxter home, which was in reality a farewell dinner for Mr. and Mrs. Jay Baxter, N. State road, who are moving to Fairfield, Iowa.

The Baxters, who have lived in Arlington Heights approximately seven years, have purchased a farm in Fairfield.

Spring Fashion show in Arlington Tuesday

See the latest in the "new look" by attending the Spring Fashion show Tuesday night, March 2 at the Arlington Heights fieldhouse at 8:00.

This show, sponsored by the Junior Woman's club of Arlington Heights, will feature fashions from the Silhouette Shop. Clothes and accessories for afternoon, evening, sports, and outside wear will be shown.

Immediately following the show refreshments will be served and a door prize will be given away.

Tickets, fifty cents each, may be purchased from any member of the Junior Woman's club, or by calling Mrs. Edward Crofoot, Jr., Arlington Heights 183.

Use Plywood in Homes

Government tests have demonstrated plywood walls to be far more rigid, and thus safer, than walls of the conventional material while at the same time the speed with which these large panels are applied effects savings in labor and time. The dri-built type of construction, which utilizes the advantages of fir plywood, rapidly is becoming the accepted method for the building of many small and large homes.

Accident Sunday injures

An auto accident involving one car and its three occupants occurred late Sunday afternoon at the intersection of Golf and Linnemann roads.

Michael P. Nellessen, 18, Oakton and Lee street, Des Plaines, accompanied by Patricia Engh and Lavern Dahm, both 15 and also of Des Plaines, was driving his father's car west on Golf, making a left turn onto Linnemann road. As he made the turn his wheels struck loose gravel causing the car to skid, strike a culvert, hit a tree and overturn about 50 feet south of Golf road.

An ambulance was summoned to take all three to the Northwestern hospital, Des Plaines, where first aid was given them. The injuries were not serious as all were released from the hospital the same day.

Arlington students meet Cornelia Otis Skinner

Twenty-eight students of the speech department of Arlington Heights Township high school saw the play, "Lady Windemere's Fan," Wednesday, February 18, starring Cornelia Otis Skinner, who is co-author of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay, which was produced by the senior class last November.

When Miss Skinner was told that a number of the group had had roles in the play, she came out of her dressing room after the play to meet them. An Associated Press article commented that the local audience had seen double when the Beach twins, Charles and George, alternately played the role of Otis Skinner, Miss Skinner's father.

When Miss Skinner's request to meet her two "fathers" was answered, she quipped, "My, but you look young."

The students later commented on the surprising resemblance there was between Miss Skinner and Joan Mors, who had portrayed her in the senior play.

Although they decided not to ask Miss Skinner for autographs, some of them did collect autographs from actors in supporting roles. The group examined the stage and the sets. The stage manager answered all the questions they asked.

The students, mostly seniors, were accompanied by Mrs. Anderson's speech instructor.

'When The Angels Sing' to be reviewed at Martha Circle

Mrs. George Ellerbracke of Barrington will review the book, "When The Angels Sing," at the Thursday meeting of the Martha Circle of St. John's Ev. and Ref. church.

The meeting begins at 1:30 and an invitation to attend is extended to the general public.

Charles Voelker sails for Buenos Aires

Charles Voelker Sr. of Arlington Heights will sail Friday from New York City on the "Argentina." A store interior designer, he will survey the field in South America for future development of business relations.

Enroute to Buenos Aires, Argentina he will make stops at Rio De Janeiro, Santos (Sao Paulo), and Montevideo. He expects to arrive in Buenos Aires about March 16.

At Blackburn

Robert Smeby, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Smeby, 108 South Albert, Mt. Prospect, has been listed on the Blackburn college honor roll for the first semester of this year. The honor roll consists of the upper ten percent of the student body, which includes 343 students. On the basis of 5.0 as the highest possible average, Bob received a 4.6.

Brownie Troop 10

Ten girls attended the last meeting of Brownie Troop 10, Arlington Heights. The girls are busy making felt lapel pins.

Rain or snow, Herald reaches homes on time

Like the pony express whose slogan was "the mail must go through," the eight newsboys who deliver the Mt. Prospect Herald in Mt. Prospect hop their two-wheeled "steeds" every Thursday afternoon to bring the week's news to subscribers.

One of these young news boys is Richard Claus, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur P. Claus, 105 N. Lancaster, Mt. Prospect. Dick, who is in the sixth grade at the local grade school, started his route last fall.

"HE JUST WENT out and got subscribers," his mother reports, "and in six months he had twenty-four customers."

Most of Dick's customers live in the new section of town just south of the Chicago and Northwestern tracks, and Bob has never failed to deliver his papers every week, even though "it's usually rainy and cold on Thursdays between 4 and 6 p. m."

When the weather was really bad during the recent ice and sleet storms, both Dick and his buddy, Bob Scott, walked their paper routes every week because it was impossible to ride their bicycles.

BOB IS THE twelve-year-old son of Mrs. J. H. Scott, 114 S. Owen, Mt. Prospect, and also is in the sixth grade at school.

He has had his route for two and one-half years, inheriting it from another paper boy in 1946.

"He was awfully young to start a paper route at the time," Mrs. Scott stated, "so I walked with him the first few times to show him where his customers lived."

Bob has 41 subscribers on the east side of town and he, too, has his own bicycle.

RECENTLY, several subscribers sent letters of appreciation to the boys for putting the paper inside the storm door during snowy weather and for placing it under the door mat on windy days.

Educators council adopted name of teachers' group

The Arlington Area Educators Council is the official name adopted by the teachers and administrators organization, Thursday evening, January 19, at the North School, Arlington Heights. Rural, town, public, and parochial school educators from Arlington Hts., Mt. Prospect, Wheeling, Prospect Heights, and Elk Grove organized last fall to bring the schools in this area closer together in order to work for the social and professional progress of educators and schools.

The entertainment for the evening was a social get-together. Mr. C. B. Beidel, Mt. Prospect, directed an old-fashioned square dance with music furnished by Mr. C. L. Griffith and Mr. Willard Cooke. Dr. Harry Edgren from George Williams College, Chicago, conducted a social mixer on how to get acquainted.

The social committee for the Arlington Area Educators council is composed of Mrs. John Foster, Arlington Heights; Mr. Robert Kemman, Arlington Hts.; and Mrs. Elizabeth Payne, Prospect Heights.

The next meeting will be held in Mt. Propsect on Thursday evening, March 11, at the public school on Main and Central. All educators are cordially invited to attend.

Wheeling Home Bureau gives farewell party

A farewell party will be combined with the regular meeting of the Wheeling Township Home Bureau today, Thursday.

The party, in honor of Mrs. Helen Weidner of Buffalo Grove, will be in the form of a potluck dinner, and will be held at the home of Mrs. C. A. Hughes, 720 S. Dunton.

Mrs. Weidner has been a long time member of the Bureau. She and her family are leaving Buffalo Grove to make their home in Wisconsin.

Bake sale March 6

The Mother's club of the St. Peter Lutheran school will hold a bake sale Saturday, March 6, at the Public Service store, corner Campbell and Vail streets, Arlington Heights. The sale starts at 1:30 p. m.

American Legion Auxiliary notes

Merle Guild Unit No. 208 the American Legion Auxiliary of Arlington Heights will hold an evening business meeting at Legion hall Tuesday, March 2.

The February 17 social meeting at the home of Mrs. Clyde Jones was enjoyed by all. February being the month of many important events the hostess patterned her decoration and luncheon to fit in with the 14th and 22nd. The decorations were for St. Valentine's Day and the cherry tarts on the luncheon menu represented George Washington's birthday.

Following the luncheon the residents of Arlington Heights attending the meeting were briefed on the history of the village.

Engagement announced

Announcement has been made that Miss Lois Piske, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Piske, 2333 Estes ave., Chicago, is engaged to L. E. Parks of Bensenville, Ill.

Lois is a senior at Carleton college Northfield, Minn.

Party suggestions to highlight Woman's Club meeting Wednesday

Helen Stevens Fisher, "The Have-Some-Fun Lady" on NBC's National Farm and Home Hour, will be guest speaker at the Wednesday meeting of the Arlington Heights Woman's Club. The meeting will be held at the field house and will begin at 1:30 p.m.

Parties are a profession to Mrs. Fisher, who is always ready with ideas for bright new parties and picnics. She has worked with young people in the 4-H clubs and for more than 12 years has broadcast her party suggestions on the National Farm and Home Hour.

Mrs. Fisher has written four books on party and picnic giving. Those members who long to be perfect hostesses can get some good tips if they attend this meeting and hear Mrs. Fisher.

The musical portion of the program will be furnished by the high school boys' chorus, under the direction of Frederick Schmoyer.

Members, who have not already done so, are asked to purchase their tickets for the "Parade of Radio Stars" at the Wednesday meeting.

Urge Arlington boys, girls to prepare for Woman's club contest

Several weeks ago the Arlington Heights Woman's club announced that it was sponsoring a contest in which an Egyptian Musical scholarship would be awarded.

The contest is open to all boys and girls of Arlington Heights who are in the seventh or eighth grades, or first, second or third year high school. Preparations for competing in this contest should now be underway among the boys and girls.

Auditions will be held early in April.

Seminary chorus concert

The Springfield Seminary chorus will present a sacred concert Sunday, March 7, at 8:00 p.m., in Peace Lutheran church, 43rd and California, Chicago. A free-will offering will be taken.

Would You Drive A Horse and Wagon Instead Of A 1948 AUTO?

Of Course Not!

45 YEARS AGO

Electricity was introduced in Arlington Heights. Homes were wired with open wires, strung on knobs and tubes. In many cases, connections were not soldered or properly taped. As time went on, various outlets were added, in some cases to the extent of overloading circuits, thereby creating a possible fire hazard.

Have you ever considered correcting such conditions by modernizing your electric wiring system? We will inspect your system FREE OF CHARGE and make recommendations to correct improper wiring. We Specialize in Residential and Farm Wiring. Estimates Furnished Free of Obligation.

Activities about Arlington Heights

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Milligan were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ensinger of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mrs. George Dapples returned home Tuesday evening after spending the past month in Palm Beach, Fla.

A family dinner party will be held Saturday night at the Ernest Langer home in honor of their son, Charle's, ninth birthday. Out of town guests will include Mr. and Mrs. R. Feld and Mr. and Mrs. Spiecker, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. H. Banks of Midlothian, and Mr. and Mrs. H. Feld of Hillside.

Miss Minnie Roeske of Chicago was a guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roeske. In the afternoon they all drove to Elgin, where they called on friends.

Joanne Sheridan, daughter of Mr and Mrs. Ray Sheridan, celebrated her 18th birthday Sunday. Twenty guests attended a family party given in her honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fellingham were hosts at a bridge-dinner party Saturday evening. Guests from Chicago were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Maitland, Mrs. David Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred James, and Robert Auten.

Thirty-nine years of marriage were observed Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Holste of Des Plaines. Sunday they entertained their four daughters and families in celebration of the occasion. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Busse and family and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Vidrick and family, all of Arlington Heights; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Porep and family of Palatine; and Lorraine Holste of Des Plaines. The Holstes have 7 grandchildren.

Mrs. C. F. Hansen has been appointed the new program chairman of the Girl Scout council in Arlington Heights.

Sunday callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Bahr were Mr. Bahr's mother, Mrs. Christine Bahr; Mr. and Mrs. John Bahr and children; and Mrs. Marg Reitman and children, all of Chicago.

Mrs. Henry Collignon entertained her pinochle club Thursday evening. Mrs. Arthur Weinrich Jr. won first place honors, with the consolation prize going to Mrs. Frank Smith.

Mrs. Frank Incapero, 22 S. Dunton, was able to make her first trip to Chicago Monday, since her fall from a step ladder last November 18. She called on her nieces and nephews there, who were all gathered together for a surprise party in her honor.

Dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Schulte last Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur McElhose, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Herzog and children, and Viola Herl.

Miss Beulah Burkitt is under observation at the Wesely Memorial hospital, Chicago.

Open house will be held this Sunday from 3:00 to 8:00 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Hines in honor of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, which was observed last Sunday. Saturday evening the Hines had a pre-celebration of their anniversary by having dinner in Chicago at Ireland's and then attending the movie "Captain From Castile."

Vince Curatti, who spent several weeks in the St. Francis hospital, Evanston, is now home and recovering nicely from his recent illness. He is still confined to his bed but expects to start getting up some time next week.

Mrs. Vance L. Folkman entertained her pinochle club Thursday evening. Mrs. L. Mirs and Mrs. George Rezner won honors.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Reinshagen of Champaign spent the week end at home visiting their parents, the A. D. Hines and the Herbert Reinshagens of Palatine.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rodine and family and Mrs. O. Rodine, all of Chicago, were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Jasper.

The past week end Mr. and Mrs. Harold Moore went to Springfield to see Mr. More's brother who is ill.

Rev. and Mrs. Milo Vondracek observed their seventeenth wedding anniversary last Saturday.

Jean Froelich of Madison, Wis. was a guest last week end of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Clemmens. Jean is a sister of Mrs. Clemmens and is a student at the University of Wisconsin.

Miss Nancy Jane Baumann, 412 S. Vail Ave., entertained several of her high school chums at a slumber party Saturday evening in honor of her sixteenth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schaefer of Portland, Ore., are visiting relatives in Illinois and called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fitzpatrick last week.

Mrs. William Fitzpatrick of Billings, Mont., who is visiting relatives and friends here, spent Thursday with the Charles Fitzpatrick family.

Now living on Rand road, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Greskiwicz, is Frank Greskiwicz Jr., who formerly made his home here. Frank is working on the new Palatine Consolidated school, which is now under construction. Among his first visits after his return to this territory was a call on his Navy buddy, Richard Scheer of Palatine, and a call on Richard Votava of Bensenville.

The Hi-Pal club were entertained at an eight o'clock dinner Wednesday at the home of Mrs. John Haemker. Pinochle made up the evening's entertainment, with high honors going to Dorothy Lynk and Mary Dobbins, and consolation prizes going to Ruth Brinkman and Ethel Miller.

Rev. Carl Spaude guest speaker at Lutheran Missionary League

Rev. Carl Spaude, former chaplain in the European theater of operations, will be guest speaker at the Lutheran Women's Missionary League meeting Friday evening.

This meeting is sponsored by the Mother's club of St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Hts. It will begin at 8:00 p. m. in the school auditorium.

Rev. Spaude will tell of his experiences, stressing the religious picture and the mission opportunities. He will also display various souvenirs.

Admission is twenty-five cents and men are also invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

'Traveling in Europe' is Legion Auxiliary topic

"Three months in Europe, 1947" was the title of the topic discussed by Mrs. John L. Otzen at the Merle Guild Post No. 208 American Legion meeting Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Otzen, wife of the Arlington Heights Post Commander, traveled through 14 different countries as buyer for her husband's mercantile firm. She was in the position to observe European post-war conditions first hand, and talked principally about conditions in France, Italy and Belgium.

Belgium, she related, has, through excellent government and the energy of its people, made such great strides in post-war recovery, that it is now by far the most prosperous of all war torn countries. There is no fear of communism in this little country, as its communist vote is less than two per cent and there is an abundance of food and merchandise available at reasonable prices.

This, it was pointed out, is directly in contrast with England, whose economy is virtually similar to that of Belgium, in that both countries are dependent upon coal exports for their existence. Belgium apparently is willing to do a good job of it and England is not. Belgium's mines are not nationalized, it is still a free economy country.

AMONG OTHER highlights of Mrs. Otzen's lecture were that conditions in Germany were much worse than published reports reveal them to be. There appears to be an unwillingness on the part of the Germans to help themselves, lest their efforts may be of future benefit to the Russians.

Other countries, continued Mrs. Otzen, are much better off than we are told. Economic recovery of Europe in general is retarded by the unwillingness of its people to work sufficient hours to produce results. The average work week in Europe contains far less hours than the average American work week.

It was interesting to have Mrs. Otzen note that in some of the countries lunch time is from 1:00 p. m. until 3:00 p. m., and there are an excessive number of holidays.

THERE IS NO doubt in Mrs. Otzen's mind as to the actual need of the Marshall plan. However, Italy is definitely in need of some aid. American automobiles of the more expensive models are in abundance everywhere in Europe and it may be less difficult to purchase an automobile there than in the United States.

People in Europe are not informed of the generosity of the Americans in that almost all of the aid and assistance that is provided for them, is of American origin. Russian aid, however little, is publicized to such an extent that it usually calls for the declaration and celebration of a holiday in honor of the Russians, whenever the Russians give anything.

The evening was concluded by serving refreshments, followed by piano duets by Legionaires Les Griffith and Lavern Levine.

Musical concert at Arlington high Mar. 18

The first concert of the year by the music department of Arlington Heights Township high school will be presented in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, March 18, at 8:00 o'clock. A varied program to please all music lovers is assured, as all musical organizations of the school, vocal and instrumental ensembles, and soloists will be included on the program.

March 18 will also enter into the history of Arlington Heights Township high school as the date the band members appeared for the first time in their colorful new uniforms. These attractive uniforms have just been received and are sure to add color and interest to the evening's entertainment.

No admission will be charged for this concert; however, a free-will offering will be taken during the concert. The public is invited.

Walther League team gains victory

Mt. Prospect Girls Walther League team added another victory to their laurels Monday, February 23, in the Arlington gym by having Niles Girls Walther League team forfeit the game. The girls are now in third place.

Our New Neighbors

Photos by Elaine Goewey, Inquiring Reporter

KJELL GAARDRE
112 Derbyshire Lane

Before the Gaardres came to Arlington Heights to live, they made their home in Indianapolis, Ind., and before that they lived in Oslo, Norway.

"Each time we move we like our new home more and more," Mrs. Gaardre said, "but I don't see how we can ever find a town better than Arlington Heights."

The couple has one child, a girl, named Ronnie Lee. In Norwegian her name is Ranveig, "just like Mother's." Ronnie Lee likes to sing and dance and has a favorite collection of records.

Mr. Gaardre is chief engineer for Webster Chicago company, Chicago. He and his wife both enjoy to read and also to play golf.

WILLIAM MOYER
436 Derbyshire Lane

Mr. and Mrs. Moyer and their two sons told the inquiring reporter that they were "thrilled" with their new home in the City of Good Neighbors.

"We used to live on the north side of Chicago," Mrs. Moyer said, "but we decided to move to Arlington Heights to give our two boys lots of room to grow in." The Moyers moved here January 20.

Mr. Moyer is an attorney and his law office at present is in Chicago, although he is looking for office space in Arlington Heights. He also teaches law at DePaul university.

Aside from their children, fishing and walking are joint hobbies of both Mr. Moyer and his wife.

ELMER BIERMANN
539 S. Dunton ave.

Newcomers to our town are the Elmer Biermanns, who have lived in Arlington Heights since November 15. "We used to live in Palatine," Mrs. Biermann told the reporter, "but we traveled to Arlington Heights so often we just decided to move here for good."

Arvilla, the Biermann's two-year-old little girl, likes to go to Sunday school and to play by herself. When she's a "good" girl, they call her "Sugar."

Mr. Biermann is employed by the post office in Arlington Heights. When she's not taking care of "Sugar," Mrs. Biermann keeps busy with her knitting. The social life of the family centers around the Evangelical church in Itasca.

P. A. DUDERSTADT
703 E. Euclid

The Duderstadts were out home shopping and came to look at a building project in our City of Good Neighbors. They found exactly the type of home they wanted and moved in. "We've never regretted our choice," they say, because the whole atmosphere of our new town is so wonderfully cheerful."

Mr. Duderstadt is a registered pharmacist employed in Chicago. His wife is kept busy all day by the couple's little boy, Perry, Jr., who loves to stroll through the house and follow his mother around. Perry Jr., who is seventeen months old, has blond hair and blue eyes like his "mommy."

In their spare time, the Duderstadts like to tinker around the house, for both admit that they love housekeeping.

Bridal shower

Joyce Richards, N. State road, Arlington Heights, was guest of honor Wednesday evening at a surprise miscellaneous bridal shower. Mrs. Harvey Rasmussen and daughters, Lorraine Moskal and Dolores, were hosts to the shower.

Twenty-five guests viewed the many gifts bestowed on the bride-to-be. A late supper was served.

Miss Richards will be married March 6. to Bruce Bartlett, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bartlett, also of Arlington Heights. The wedding will be held at 6:30 p. m., at the St. John Ev. & Ref. church.

Christened Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Winkelhake of Schaumburg had their baby daughter christened Karen Lyn at their home Sunday afternoon. Rev. Behling officiated.

Sponsors for the little girl were her two grandmothers, Mrs. William Schoepke of Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Herman Winkelhake, Sr., and Eleanore Sehoepke and Alma Winkelhake.

WINTER CHORES ARE EASIER with the UNIVERSAL 'Jeep'

● You can do your winter chores much faster if there's a "Jeep" on the job—especially when snow is deep or mud is soft and sticky. The 4-wheel-drive Universal "Jeep" goes through churned-up farmyards, over impassable winter roads, even across rough open country. With new all metal top and the heater going, you can work the "Jeep" right through the coldest weather—using it for such widely different jobs as spreading manure, hauling produce or fetching supplies. The "Jeep" also furnishes power for operating many kinds of belt-driven equipment, including hammer mills, buzz saws, feed grinders and numerous others that you use the year 'round. Let us show you what the "Jeep" can do.

Students to compete in district speech meet

Arlington Heights Township high school will be represented in the Illinois high school association district speech contests to be held in Elgin Saturday morning, February 28.

Those who will participate are Marilyn Schlemmer, serious reading; Jean Baldwin, comedy reading; Pat Kule, extempore speaking; Joan Mors, verse speaking; Bill North, original oratory and oratorical declamation.

They have been working for the contests under the direction of Mrs. Dorrine Anderson.

County board questions outside auditing help

An innocent item of $833.33 for auditing services rendered the county treasurer caused a stormy review of the tax situation at the county board meeting last week.

The money was charged to County Treasurer Nelson for auditing help he received during December, 1947.

Commissioner George Miller, of Oak Park, commenting on the item for outside auditing assistance, wanted to know why municipalities had to pay a percentage of what they collect from rightfully due taxes in order to collect their share from the treasurer.

"Why pay for this audit," demanded Miller, who initiated the tax review, "if the municipalities have to pay private firms for audits to present to the Treasurer?"

The commissioner pointed out that he was not criticizing Treasurer Louis E. Nelson, but added "there seems to have been a negligence in office in times past to account for the present situation."

He insisted that the treasurer's office should be able to tell each town and taxing body how much was due it without forcing them to go to the expense of a private audit.

Commissioner Daniel Ryan, chairman of the committee, said the present situation was brought about "by the 1928 reassessment." He pointed out that the entire matter was up to Nelson and was not the responsibility of the committee.

Treasurer Nelson has said that town and taxing bodies will receive what is due them without filing suit, as some have done, if they will appear with an audit showing where the collector has withheld too much for tax objections.

May pass St. Norbert building fund quota Sunday at $250,000

The building fund campaign of St. Norbert's Catholic church will end next Sunday, with present indications that the quota needed to begin construction of the new church and school at Northbrook will be met or even exceeded. Cost of the new buildings, which will be erected this year on a five-acre tract along East Walter avenue, has been estimated at $275,000.

The campaign has been under way since February 15 among all Catholic residents of Northbrook and vicinity. George Balmes of Northbrook is chairman of the group of 25 men who have been conducting the solicitation. Approximately $225,000 was available in the building fund before the final campaign.

Any parishioners who have not been visited by members of the Founders club are urged to communicate with Father Charles Haefner, pastor of St. Norbert's, Techny, telephone Northbrook 12.

Quality Frozen Figs

Figs are high in calories; are excellent sources of sugar, iron and calcium; and have long been recommended for their laxative properties. They are relatively low in acids and astringency, and the flavor is mild and delicate. For those who like the fresh fig flavor, they are one of the choice frozen fruits. Frozen figs and rich cream are a delicacy. It has been found by University of Georgia that figs which have begun to shrivel withstand freezing better and have firmer texture when defrosted than figs which were plump and in succulent stage of maturity when processed.

Prune Coffee Cake

For an energy pick-up, quick and nutritious, serve this excellent prune cake with mugs of milk.

Hot breads are an appetizing invitation to "come and get it", especially when winter storms are blowing outside. This year's good supplies of dried fruits make them a good item to team with enriched flour's thrifty protein, iron and B-vitamins for nourishing, flavorful coffee cakes.

A versatile bread, indeed, is this prune coffee cake with its attractive crumble topping. Serve it for breakfast, of course — but also for luncheon with a Lenten salad plate of diced fruits and cheese, and when friends drop in for "a snack".

If you dip your scissors in water before cutting the prunes, the fruit will be less likely to stick to the blades. You will also find it a good idea to "dust" the chopped fruit with part of the sifted dry ingredients to keep the fruit from sticking together.

PRUNE COFFEE CAKE

2 packages yeast, compressed or dry granular
1 cup lukewarm water
¼ cup melted shortening
½ cup sugar
2½ teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup chopped cooked prunes
3½ cups sifted enriched flour

TOPPING
¼ cup brown sugar
¼ cup granulated sugar
½ cup enriched flour
¼ cup margarine or butter
¼ teaspoon salt

Soften yeast in ¼ cup lukewarm water. To remaining water add shortening, sugar, salt, and cinnamon. Cool to lukewarm. Add two cups flour. Mix well. Add eggs and softened yeast. Beat thoroughly. Add prunes and mix well. Add remaining flour. Mix well. Pour into greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place (80 degrees to 85 degrees F.) until light and puffy (about two hours). Stir down and pour into greased pans nine inches in diameter. Sprinkle with topping mixture made by mixing sugars, salt, and flour and cutting in margarine or butter. Let rise until doubled (about two hours). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 30 minutes. Yield: Two coffee cakes, nine inches in diameter.

'Necessity' invention pays off for Palatine man

"When I ran a gas station in Hammond, Ind., there was a shortage of $600 in one year because there was no accurate method of measuring the amount of gasoline in the tank and how much had been sold.

"So I decided to invent a way to check gasoline output," David C. Talbot, Franklin road, Palatine, asserted.

The result was a liquid level gauge which gave an accurate tank reading above the ground.

In operation the gauge tells the amount of gasoline delivered by wholesale dealers to individual stations, determines if pipe leaks under or above ground cause shortages, and records the amount of gasoline sold each day.

Before Talbot's "necessity" invention was constructed in 1929, gasoline station operators measured tank contents by dipping a wooden stick into the tank.

"This was a surprisingly primitive method for the twentieth century," Talbot stated. "Measuring in this way did not account for the splash or ripple as the stick was dropped down into the liquid. Nor did it account for capillary attraction which took place as the liquid "traveled up" the wood fiber of the stick.

Talbot's gauge consists of five pieces constructed out of aluminum, making up the gauge and scale strip, and its entire weight is approximately three pounds.

After he invented the gauge, Talbot developed a method of calibrating, or measuring the contents of a tank by volume.

When he installed the gauge in the Hammond gas station, he found that his shortages for the year were reduced to $7.00. Since then he has installed similar units for corporations over the United States.

During the war he spent much time in calibrating and certifying for the United States treasury department tank trucks used to haul alcohol from distillers to munitions factories. The government paid distillers for conscripted alcohol on the basis of Talbot's readings.

St. John Lenten services

This Sunday's Lenten service at St. John Evangelical and Reformed church will be entitled "Across The Brook Kidron," the text being taken from Matthew 26: 30 and John 18: 1-2.

Wednesday evening the sermon topic will be "In Dark Gethsemane." The service begins at 7:45.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Otto Mirs, who passed away two years ago, February 25, 1946.
God took heed of your suffering
And called you home to eternal rest.
Your aching body with peace was blessed.
Tho we expected a near farewell,
You slipped out without a goodbye,
Leaving in our hearts the everlasting repeated question—
Dear God—why. One so kindly
And thoughtful in all his ways
Should be destined so cruelly to end his days.
Wife, Children and Grandchildren. AH&C

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Berger Christiansen, who passed away one year ago, February 26, 1947.
We miss thee from our home dear father
We miss thee from thy place
A shadow o'er our life is cast
We miss the sunshine of thy face.
Loving wife Sylvia and sons Richard, Ronald and James. Mt.P

Mother Arrives In Bensenville From Germany

Mrs. Maria Stender, of Kiel, Germany, who recently made her first flight at the age of 84 from Frankfort, Germany, to New York, was welcomed by her son, Fred Stender of Bensenville, and three daughters, Mrs. Louis Landwehr, of Bensenville, Mrs. Mary Koke and Mrs. Dorothy Zeitler of Chicago, last Monday in Chicago.

MRS. STENDER, who had not seen her children for twenty-five years, said that this meeting is the culmination of a long dream during which she had survived the rigors of a war torn country. Asked how she liked the States and her airplane ride, she stated that the country is wonderful, and so big, and that she enjoyed the plane ride, also the New York subways.

MRS. IDA KAADTMANN accompanied Mrs. Stender from the East. The elderly lady will make her home with Mrs. Landwehr near Bensenville.

Leonard Raupp

Funeral service for Leonard Raupp, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Raupp, Prairie View, were held last week, Wednesday, from St. Mary's Catholic church, Buffalo Grove. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.

Leonard was born November 24, 1947, in Libertyville. He died in Dixon, Ill., February 16. The infant is survived by his parents, Roger and Mary Jane Raupp.

RAMBLE INN 'N OUTINGS

by BILL NORTH

The old saying "Into each life some rain must fall," might be true most times, but there is one particular shower that will bring nothing but joy into yours. You've guessed it! Ramble Inn's second annual April Shower dance.

The dance has been scheduled for April 17 and that particular date should have a big red ring around it on your date calendar. It is now that you should get your date to be on the safe side 'cause there will be a terrific rush to get out of the stag line.

The April Shower will be semi-formal and will last from nine to twelve. If you were at last year's dance and liked it, wait till you see this one. It will have all that made last year's a success and more. Tickets will be $1.00 for stags and $1.75 for couples.

If you want to know anything more about it just ask Ken Bork our new and very able president.

Here are the committees. Joan "Bug" Unger is chairman of the decoration committee. Her fellow workers are Barbara "Butch" Tichy, Bonnie Peterson, Bernard Brock, Mary Lou Sanders, Bob S. Arnold and Wally Goebbert. George Kovacik heads the refreshment committee, while Jim Schwartz is his right hand man. Jean Baldwin is ready to put on a really great floor show along with Poebe Ellis and Norm Spratt, her associates. Barbara "Butch" Tichy is chairman of the publicity committee and Mary Lou Sanders will be serving right along with her. The tickets and programs will be taken care of by Bob Daggett's committee. Others in the group are Silvia "Slim" Brown and Anita Glabe. And last, but never the least is the clean-up committee. This all important committee is headed by Mary Lou Sanders. Her fellow cleaner-uppers are Peg Kolker, Chuck Johnson, Dick Morand and Roger Kennedy.

I'll have more about the great April Shower Dance next week. In the meantime, get that date.

— Y. C. —

Boy what a night and what a day there will be tomorrow, Saturday, 28. In the morning, a group of students are going to Elgin to compete in the Illinois high school speech contest. That night there will be the bitter Palatine, Arlington game and after that the junior class turnabout at Arlington high. Oh, say by the way, here are the kids who are competing in that contest Saturday: Joan Mors is doing verse speaking, Marilyn Schlimmer is doing serious reading, Pat Kule is doing extemporaneecus speaking and Jean Baldwin is doing comedy reading. Here is wishing them luck.

— Y. C. —

Some talk about our generation
Some hold no hope for it at all
Some say restraint is on vacation
They think our lives are all a brawl.
They observe with local consternation
That youth must be full of sin
Yet it's sure they'd change this observation
Could they see youth at play at Ramble Inn.

Inverness home of Hubert Nelsons featured in National magazine

The Hubert Nelsons, Baldwin road, Inverness, built their home, Varborg, in 1941, the way they liked it, not the way builders said it had to be done.

Colorful interior and exterior pictures of Varborg ("our home" in Swedish) are in the March edition of the Better Homes and Gardens magazine. The article tells how the Nelsons carried out their own ideas and color schemes in designing and decorating Varborg.

Mr. Nelson, a commercial artist, and his wife have a real individual home because they know what they wanted and went ahead and did it, regardless of whether convention said it could or couldn't be done.

Mt. Prospect team wins Walther league meet

Mt. Prospect senior Walther League basketball team are champions of the Northwest zone of the senior Walther League tournament by virtue of their 49-34 victory over the senior Walther League team of Des Plaines Monday, February 23, in the Arlington gym.

Des Plaines tied the count, 13-13, at the end of the first quarter. Mt. Prospect led by one basket at the intermission. It was the third quarter spurt that gained victory for Mt. Prospect, outscoring their opponents 33-21.

Bill Wille dropped in 12 points and Bob Wille and Hank Ehard each added 8 for the winners, while Kaitchuck and Skibbe accounted for most of the scoring for Des Plaines.

MT. PROSPECT will play the champions of the Lincoln division Sunday, February 29, at 8:30 p. m. in the River Forest Teachers college gym.

Last Sunday the Mt. Prospect squad trimmed Niles, 64-32, in the Park Ridge gym. Bill Wille added 14 points to the score in this game.

Last Friday, February 20, the locals won a 63-46 victory over Des Plaines.

Mt. Prospect police ask when is a dog not a dog?

Some owners of those four footed animals that look like a dog when they are grown up are disputing the definition of the police department on what constitutes a dog.

According to D. Gilbert who is himself a dog fancier, he registered his puppy as a dog the next day after its birth.

"It is only a puppy and I should not be required to buy it a license until it grows up," argued one woman. Another said, "a young child is not required to pay admission price or full fare on the train, why should the village of Mt. Prospect ask an adult fee of my puppy?"

The village dads may be asked to cast the deciding vote at their next meeting, "when is a dog not a dog?"

"How about licensing cats," is an inquiry made by a neighbor who loves and feeds birds. He adds that the law protects pheasants except in the fall of the year. A cat in my neighborhood has extinguished several pheasant families. Can anything be done about it?

The Herald passes all inquiries on to the village dads.

Shrine circus opens this week

Medinah Temple, long the home of style shows and light opera, will be transformed into a gigantic indoor "Big Top" this week, as riggers, workmen and grooms begin preparations for the opening of the 6th Annual Shrine Circus, at 600 No. Wabash, Friday afternoon.

The 30-act circus will be presented Wednesday through Saturday afternoon at 2:30, with two matinees on Sunday. The first at 1 p.m. and the second at 3:45. Evening performances will start at 8:15. Reserved seats are now on sale at Medinah Temple, 600 N. Wabash and the Adams Hat store, Madison and Dearborn.

Spools First Used

Silk thread was first placed on spools in 1849 by Gen. Merritt Heminway in his factory at Watertown, Conn. Before that time silk was sold in skeins.

Nels Rundgren

Nels Rundgren, one of Prospect Heights' earliest residents, passed away at Tampa, Florida on February 19. With him at the time of his death were his wife and two sons. He had been in ill health for the past three years and was wintering in Fla. with Mrs. Rundgren when stricken.

The Rundgrens moved to Prospect Heights in September 1939 and were active and well known in community circles and affairs during the early years.

He was employed by the Ellison Draft Gage Company for 35 years and was its vice president at the time of his retirement 3 years ago, due to ill health.

Mr. Rundgren was born in Oslo, Norway February 4, 1887. He came to America in 1902 and married Aagot Janson on December 18, 1909. He died at the age of 61 years.

Surviving him are his wife, Aagot; sons, Nels and Donald; daughter, Elaine Sarow; grandchildren, Judy and Shirley Sarow; brother, Alfred Rundgren, of Detroit, Mich.; and sisters Sally Sartow, Woodstock, Ill. Esther Pries, of Forest Park and Edith Jensen, of Chicago.

Funeral services were conducted by Dr. Truman Cart, at Lain & Sons chapel, Monday afternoon. Interment was at Ridgewood cemetery.

Fred Rascher Sr. passes away

Funeral services for Fred Rascher Sr., Arlington Heights, were held last Saturday from the Karstens-Fairbanks funeral home to St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church. Rev. W. F. Kamphenkel officiated and interment was in Euclid Rand cemetery.

Mr. Rascher was born March 24, 1853 at Schaumburg. He was baptized by Rev. Hoffman, and confirmed by Pastor Richman in 1867 at Schaumburg. April 27, 1893 he was united in marriage to Caroline Haemker at St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Hts.

Following their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Rascher made their home on a farm, located on Kirchhoff road, west of Arlington Heights, where they lived for 35 years. In 1928 Mr. Rascher retired and moved into Arlington Hts.

Mr. Rascher died last week Wednesday at the age of 94 years, 10 months, and 24 days. He is survived by his wife, Caroline; 5 children, Mrs. Martha Beese, William, Fred, Mrs. Mathilda Kleiner, and Mrs. Lydia Hinkelhake; 14 grandchildren, and 5 great grandchildren.

District 59 gives approval to $70,000 bond issue Saturday

It was a spirited election Saturday in Consolidated school district No. 59. The $70,000 bond issue carried by a vote of 135 to 116. Authority to build was approved by 141 to 124.

The school board is advertising in this issue for bids on the construction work, which they will open March 8.

The proposed addition will be 48x75 feet, and will include full basement, with three classrooms, lockers and toilets on upper floor.

W. F. McCaughey and R. A. Peterson are the architects and engineers.

CARD OF THANKS

To those who expressed their sympathy in so many beautiful and practical ways during our recent bereavement, we extend our heartfelt thanks.

NILES AT LEYDEN GAME TO DECIDE NE CAGE CHAMPIONSHIP

MACS SAYS

BY GERALD McELROY

It was a year of new records in the Northwest Conference basketball season. The Bensenville Bisons who finished on top with a 13-1 record accounted for seven new League marks. Topping them all is Bob Thollander's 264 points in 14 games which smashes the old mark of 209 by a terrific margin. Next comes Bensenville's new team mark of 680 points, an average of 48.6 a game. Thollander made the most field goals, 103, and the most free throws, 58, so far chalked up in a 14 game schedule. Thollander also tied his mark made last year of 33 points in a single game. This year he also chalked up 32 against Wauconda while tying the record in the Grant game with 33.

The Bensenville frosh-soph team set a new single game scoring total of 70 points against Grant with 14 boys seeing action. The Bison varsity scored a new high of 89 against Grant but used only seven men and the five starters played nearly the whole game. Bensenville set still another record for the combined scoring of two players on the same team in one game as Thollander scored 33 and Steffensen 26 for a 59 point total against Grant. The odd part of it is that most all of the Bison records were made against a team that beat them in their only set back this season.

Bisons were primed to break records against Grant

The Bensenville boys were evidently primed for Grant and Coach Meneguin let them go the limit once he saw they were having a red hot scoring night. As other coaches are heard to say, the Bisons can look for no mercy when the time comes that they have an off year and others have a chance to snow them under.

Anyway, Bensenville has a mighty fine ball club and next week will have a chance to show just how good they really are when they hit West Suburban competition in the regional tournament at Glenbard. For the most part the Northwest conference has been weak this year. We say this not to belittle in any way the Bison team. We think they will surprise a lot of folks in the regional, particularly some larger schools who may not be taking them seriously.

Pepper sets free throw record

One of the new league records which will come as a surprise to most of our readers is a free throw percentage of 78% chalked up by Dick Pepper of Palatine. Pepper made 46 free throws in 59 tries in 12 league games for an unusual average. Dick missed the two opening games of the schedule due to a broken ankle suffered in football and it took two more games before he got in form.

Pepper had two different nights when he made seven out of eight free throws and two occasions when he hit eight. Against Northbrook Pepper made eight straight and two days later in the Antioch game sank eight out of 11. Making 16 out of 19 in two successive games is probably another record.

By the way, Dick shoots his free throws under hand in the old fashioned manner. Seems like most boys now are changing over to the one hand shot from the charity line but we do not notice that it is bringing any improvement in the number scored. Pepper's 140 points in 12 games is the best scoring for a conference season ever made by a Palatine boy playing a guard position.

Golden gloves finals March 5

Sports fans wanting to get a real evening of action and thrills for their money will do well to patronize the Chicago Tribune sponsored golden gloves finals next week, Friday night. We regard this event as one of the best sports attractions of the year in the Chicago area and intend to see the title bouts.

Cheerleaders can also play basketball

Elaine Schwolow, Dolores Sander, Barbara Wright, and Betty Nehrbass make up the best cheerleading quartet Palatine high school has had in the 17 years this writer has been identified with the school. Last Saturday night we observed that Elaine and Dolores can play basketball as well as lead cheering.

Playing with the Immanuel Lutheran girls team in an exhibition game Elaine sank seven field goals as the team won from Park Ridge, 26-11. The Palatine girls lost just once last season and this year have turned back

Heights boxers fight Friday

Fists will be flying this Friday night, February 27, at the Arlington Heights high school gymnasium when the Merle boxers oppose Highland Park in seventeen bouts.

Directors Henry Nichols and Melvin Mullen have announced a complete program for the evening with boys from the lightest to the heaviest weights slated to vie for honors in the ring.

THE BOY BOXERS, sponsored by Merle Guild post 208, the American Legion, is sponsoring the work of these local boys in learning to defend themselves via boxing. The boys have come a long way since the program was inaugurated some time ago, with future matches also being planned.

Complete list of officials includes referee Howard Walsh, time keeper Frank Lyons, judges H. W. Grace and C. R. Larsen, and physicians B. T. Best and H. O. Meisenheimer. Les Griffith will announce the matches.

BOYS INCLUDED on the program include:

Arlington women bowlers win two

Arlington Heights women bowling squad won two more matches Saturday and Sunday when they took the measure of two squads, the Arlington Liquor Mart men's quintet and the S & S Sports shop five of Elmhurst. Mildred Porvich was high kegler with 539 in the local victory, while Toni LaBant was tops with 570 against the Elmhurst aggregation.

The girls had been awarded a 20 pin spot in the contest against the men, but found it wasn't necessary in any of the three tests.

To pick all-star team next week

Paddock Publications will publish the Northwest conference all-star team selections next week, in accordance with the selections of league coaches. Also appearing next week will be the final scoring leaders of both the Northwest and Northeast conferences.

Regionals to open next week

Arlington and Palatine at Elgin Wednesday night

Arlington and Palatine carry Northwest and Northeast conference banners into the ever-strong Elgin regional next week, with the former slated to last at least one game longer than the Pirates.

Palatine, as in the past two years, meets Elgin of the Big Eight conference in the opener Wednesday night at 6:15. Coach Stutzman's boys, who haven't fared well the past three weeks, are mainly going along "for the ride," though a superior performance as played against Bensenville in their second meeting this season, could bring a victory. Elgin hasn't had a perfect year, by any means, but size alone counts for much of the difference.

ARLINGTON WILL be meeting the winner of the Hebron district contest of this week, possibly the host school, itself. The Cardinals are favorites in this meeting at 8:30 Wednesday, with the winner scheduled to meet, probably, Elgin, Thursday night at 8:30.

Tuesday night's winners, probably Dundee over Crystal Lake, and a tossup between Woodstock and McHenry, will meet at 6:15 Thursday night. Final contest, a single affair, will occur Friday night at 8:00 p. m.

ADMISSION, with all seats reserved, is 60c for each game the first two nights, and $1.00 the latter two evenings. Tickets for the first two nights are available at Palatine and Arlington high school offices until 9 a. m. Monday morning.

If Arlington wins, tickets for the next game will be available locally until 1:30 the afternoon of the game. No tickets will be held by either principal's office as in former years. Thus, first come, first served.

Barrington stops Grant,

Barrington shut out Grant in the final quarter 12-0 to beat the Bulldogs in the season finale last Friday night, 44-24. Pomeroy scored 10 points for the Bronchos to bring his total for the season to 205, just four points under last year's record made by Walter Kocher, also of Barrington. Of course Thollander of Bensenville with 264 was way out in front but in nine out of 10 seasons Pomeroy would have been top player of the year and his scoring record is a remarkable one. Meyer had 12 points and Jefferson nine.

The Bronchos held Grant to five field goals and their six foot six center Johnson to four free throws. The Bronchos led 22-14 at half time.

The Barrington Frosh-Sophs, directed by Coach Samuels, took an undisputed championship with a 12-2 record by submerging Grant's 1-13 team by 64-22. Ten Ponies scored field goals in the rout with Frey getting 15 points. Beskow of Grant scored 12. Barrington had a half time lead of 29-6 and scored 26 points in the third quarter.

Antioch in 1st division with win

Antioch gained the first division in Northwest conference play when they took the measure of Northbrook, 29-23, while Palatine was suffering a double loss at Ela. The Sequoits grabbed a one point lead the first period, fell behind the second, 14-12, then surged ahead, 22-17, going into the home stretch.

Lesch was tops for the Vikings with ten scores, while Kraft was dropping in seven free throws in addition to his four buckets to tally fifteen for the winners.

FROSH-SOPH division saw Northbrook gaining an even break in the evening's activities, 37-34. Northbrook took a comfortable lead the first half, 25-11, that was too much for the Antioch rally the final two segments.

Huhta with 12 and Rodney with 11 were tops for the junior Vikings while Hilton sank 14 for Antioch.

Steffensen out for Downers game Tuesday

Bensenville's Bisons, though playing without the services of number two scorer Richard Steffensen, out with a broken elbow, will be out to win Tuesday night when they engage Downers Grove in the Glenbard regional. Game time is set for 7:15 p. m. at the gym.

Coach Meneguin may add Jerry Anderson, 6' 3" sophomore, to the squad for the tournament, in hopes of making up some of the loss of strength caused by Steffensen's mishap.

THE BISONS were rated a good chance to gain the regional finals prior to that broken elbow, and still should make a good showing as representative of the Northwest conference.

Glenbard is the favorite to win its own tournament this year. They should yet past Hinsdale in the opener Monday night, then meet York Wednesday, probable victor over Immaculate Conception high school of Elmhurst.

IN THE BOTTOM bracket, if the locals can get by Downers Tuesday, they will probably meet Maine Thursday night. Maine has a poor record this year for its size, and could be pushed over by the Bisons.

After the two games Monday and Tuesday nights, the other three contests are on different nights, all starting at 7:30. Finals are Friday night at 7:30.

Tickets will all be sold at the door, with admission set at 60c and 40c for adults and students.

The Bisons will warm up for the tourney this Friday night when they play host to IC of Elmhurst in an extra contest.

Northwest coaches meet, plan spring sports lineup

Northwest Conference coaches met at Antioch Monday night and set dates for spring sports activities. The conference track meet will be held at Palatine on Thursday, May 20 at 6:15 p.m. The league golf tournament will be held at Barrington on Monday, May 24.

The coaches voted to start the baseball schedule Friday, April 23, with two games a week until June 11 with the exception of the week of the state district tournament. G. A. McElroy, Palatine principal and league secretary, who represents the school heads at the coaches meetings, was designated to draw up the baseball schedule as he is from the only school not playing the sport.

IT WAS voted unanimously that officials for the 1948-49 school year be paid $15.00 a game instead of the $12.50 paid this past year. A unanimous vote also was given a motion which called for a freshman or sophomore playing with the varsity in basketball to miss three straight games before being eligible for demotion to the frosh-soph squad.

The coaches voted on officials and selected a basketball schedule for next year. The league secretary had earlier sent out four schedule plans for consideration all calling for the start of the season the night before Thanksgiving. The plan picked by the coaches called for half the schedule to be played before Christmas with all games after Christmas on Friday nights. Two Tuesdays and one Saturday date are to be included before the holidays.

All action at the coaches meeting is subject to approval by the school principals at their next meeting to be held at Barrington on Wednesday, March 10.

Faculty getting ready

The Arlington Heights high school men's faculty basketball squad (?) is getting in condition for its March 16 cage classic against the 'A' club, with the winner slated to break the 1-1 deadlock thus far. Awards for lettermen will be purchased with the proceeds. Complete details will be given in future issues.

Woodstock gains double decision over Lake Forest

Woodstock retained its hopes for a share of the Northeast crown when they nosed out Lake Forest Saturday, 32-31. The Streaks gained a good 15-8 first period lead, then saw it change to a 20-19 deficit at intermission. Woodstock regained the lead the third period, and hung on for victory.

• Nelson dropped in five buckets and two charities for the winners, with Shook and Helm right behind. Sayoc counted five times for Lake Forest.

Junior-varsity affair was another close one, Woodstock also winning, 30-29. Lake Forest had led all the way, only to lose out the final period.

Niles trounces Lake Forest, 50-44

by BILL NEUSON

The Nilehi Trojans increased their lead to one full game over Woodstock and Leyden in the Northeast conference as they defeated the Lake Forest Scouts, 50 to 44 at Lake Forest February 17.

At the end of the first quarter the Trojans led, 16 to 15, after they were behind 14 to four. They sank seven baskets in 12 attempts while making two free throws out of three tosses in that quarter. Score at half time was Niles 26, Lake Forest 24.

The Trojans led the remainder of the game but were pressed constantly by the Foresters. In the closing minutes the Scouts came within two points of the Trojans. Burns was high for the Scouts with 12 points.

The JayVees of Niles won their ninth straight game when they whipped the JayVees of Lake Forest 39 to 26.

It's Niles or four teams to cop honors in tightest league race to date

What a shame that Leyden has so small a gym that it cannot even seat all the students in the school. The reason is that Friday night the Northeast basketball championship game will be played in Franklin Park and if the Leyden gym could handle 2,500 spectators instead of 800 it would still be too small.

Niles has at least a share of the championship in the bag but the hopes of Leyden as well as Woodstock and Arlington rest on the ability of the Eagles to turn back the invasion of the Niles Trojans. Last week Niles backed into at least a tie for the trophy as they played outside the league while Arlington was nipping Woodstock, 43-41 and Crystal Lake beat Leyden, 34-29. If Leyden can beat Niles, Arlington and Leyden can share the top honors with the Trojans. If that happens and Woodstock can beat Libertyville the same night there will be a four way tie for the championship.

All four deserve a share of the title

Probably justice would be meted out if all four clubs did get a share. The scores in the Northeast this year have, since midseason, been so close that there is little to choose between seven of the eight league teams. Warren has been hopelessly outclassed but there has been little to choose among the rest. Niles can thank the Crystal Lake Tigers for the enviable position in which they find themselves. The Tigers beat Woodtsock and Leyden in the closing weeks of the season or one of them would be on top.

While Leyden will have the home court advantage and the moral support of Woodstock and Arlington fans as well as their own, their chances of winning Friday night are not of the best. True, the small court may cramp Niles' style a good deal and if the Eagles are hitting they can win. However, Niles is at the peak of their game. Saturday night they flattened a good Highland Park team of the Suburban League, 56-43.

Eagles lost Rerucha with broken ankle

Leyden's hopes were given a bad jolt by the recent loss of Rerucha who at the time was leading the league in scoring. In his place Leyden moved Mascia, a six footer, from the frosh team to the varsity. The lad has come through in great style scoring 19 points at Lake Forest, 10 at Woodstock and nine at Arlington. Still, he is just a freshman and cannot be expected to know as much basketball as the boy he replaced.

Leyden has no seniors on their varsity five and so, if they do lose Friday, they will have another season to play. However, this is the last basketball week end in the Northeast conference and next year Leyden will have to play a free lance schedule.

Niles and Libertyville JV teams in tie

The Niles JV team has come up very strong since Christmas with a clean sweep of 10 straight victories. As a result they find themselves tied with Libertyville for the lead. A win over Leyden is a must for them and the Eaglets have on occasions been very tough to beat. The same night Libertyville has weak Woodstock in their final JV game and look like a sure thing.

Arlington's 37-22 win over Libertyville Saturday knocked the Wildkittens out of an undisputed championship. Arlington is just a game behind. The Arlington team slipped against Niles, Leyden, and Crystal Lake in recent games. A victory against any one of the three, whom they beat in the first round, would have assured them at least part of the title.

Arlington expects to take sleighbells Saturday night

Arlington may be champions of the Northeast conference when they play at Palatine Saturday night for the sleighbells trophy. That depends on Friday's game. It probably won't make much difference in the outcome, though, for Arlington appears to be way out in front of the slipping Pirates who surprised them, 27-24 before Christmas.

It looks like Arlington will keep the trophy at least until next December after Saturday's final of the season. Palatine lost their last four Northwest conference games to Barrington, Northbrook, Antioch, and Ela and none of those teams can give Arlington a decent game of ball. Arlington cannot win the trophy back by comparative scores for there have been too many upsets in the Palatine-Arlington calculations. Arlington's ball control and tight defense game probably will be more effective on Palatine's small court than on their own.

On the other hand there is that certain undefinable something that sometimes takes hold of boys when they have everything to win and nothing to lose in a game with a bitter rival. That something on occasions raises them far beyond their normal brand of playing for one night and accomplishes the well nigh impossible. Coach Stutzman of Palatine hopes his boys can really get fired up for Arlington. Certainly they have put out so little basketball the past few weeks that there ought to be a good reserve to draw upon.

Last second basket gives Cards 43-41 Woodstock victory

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

With only three seconds remaining in the game, John Shanley, a great rebounding forward, took a pass in the corner and let go a long shot that swished the hoop and spelled victory for Arlington high, as the Cards fought against great height odds on the Blue Streaks' floor and came through in a heart-throbbing finish to nail Woodstock in a Northeast conference tilt last Friday evening before a full house by a final score of 43-41.

The Blue Streaks ruled the play during the first three quarters, but the locals suddenly caught fire the last period and slowly erased Woodstock's commanding lead, finally tying it up at 41 all and then shocking the home team with Shanley's desperate basket to win in a made ending, 43-41. This victory over the Woodstockers somewhat avenged an earlier two-point loss to the Streaks January 16.

Arlington fell behind early in the first quarter, 4-2, but throughout the remainder of the period played nip-and-tuck ball with Woodstock and was behind at the quarter's end by the same number of tallies, 10-8. Arlington's Vic Heimsoth and Woodstock's Helm, one and two in conference scoring, each led his team's attack with 4 points apiece. Orv Schaeffer's 3 tallies and Beckman's freethrow gave the Cards their other 4 points.

WOODSTOCK's height proved efficient the next period as Louie Ohlrich, 6' 6" center, consistently retrieved the rebounds and hit two tip-ins. The Cards found it hard to penetrate the Streaks' zone defense in this period, and they had several passes intercepted. Woodstock outpointed Arlington in this frame, 7-5, to take the lead at half time, 17-13.

Woodstock got off to a fast start the third segment and in nothing flat had built up a 12-point lead, 27-15. However, the Cards tightened up their defense and put on a little offensive spurt that netted them 7 tallies to Woodstock's 2. This fell short however, and the Streaks commanded a 29-22 lead advancing into the final frame. Helm paced the Blue Streaks' 12 point attack with 6 counters. Gordon Busse led Arlington in this period by hitting for two field goals.

ARLINGTON took on new spirit in the fourth quarter and started to hit the basket from all angles with a barrage of fieldgoals and charity tosses. However, the Cards' rally was slow to get started, but when it did they soon whittled down a 10-point deficit until when, with about one minute left, Phil Roche stole the ball and went in for a drive-in to bring the count to 41-39. Roche once again came through in the clutch and tied up the game.

Schaeffer got the tip and shot a long one-hander that swished

Bisons top Wauconda in conference final

Bensenville's champion basketball Bisons ended the Northwest conference schedule Friday night as they soundly trounced Wauconda, 51-26, and 55-14, giving 26 DuPage county boys experience on the hardwood court. The varsity had previously won the conference title.

Ace scorer, Bob Thollander added to his season's scoring mark, hitting the hoop for eight from the field and five from the free throw line. This gave Bob a 264 grand total for the year, by virtue of 103 field goals, and 58 charities.

SAD NOTE for the team and followers occurred about the middle of the game when forward Richard Steffensen of the Bisons broke his right elbow as he fell to the floor, just after jumping for the ball.

Steffensen has definitely finished the cage sport, and will not be available for regional play next week against Downers Grove. The Northwest league champs had been rated a good chance to reach the finals, but Steffensen's loss will put a crimp in the locals' defensive game.

HUFFMAN came through with four baskets Friday night to aid the Bisons in setting a new team scoring pace in the Northwest loop of 680 scores. This rates an offensive average of just under 43 points while holding the opposition to 30 tallies.

The locals carded a 13-7 advantage at the quarter, and led, 25-13, at the half.

After a slow start, the Bensenville frosh-sophs also wrested victory from Wauconda, after being tied, 6-6, at the quarter. Two quarters of 22 and 21 points the second and third periods put the game on ice for the Bison yearlings.

Crystal Lake beats Leyden

With "crucial games" a dime a dozen for Northeast squads, Crystal Lake put the clamps on Leyden's sole championship hopes Saturday night when they defeated the Eagles, 34-29, after gaining a seven point lead the first period.

This puts the spotlight on the Franklin Park squad to beat Niles Friday to enable three, and possibly four, teams to tie for league honors. A Trojan win would exclude Arlington, Woodstock and the Eagles.

WITH BRUNER leading the way by virtue of 14 points, the Tigers were never headed, though Leyden was never far behind, except for the third period, seven point difference. All six Lakers aided in the scoring.

J. Spera was high for the losers with 13 scores, while Mascia, replacement for league scoring leader Rerucha, who broke his ankle two weeks ago ice skating, tallied four buckets.

IN THE JAYVEE contest, Crystal Lake won by the skin of its teeth, 34-33. Inaccuracy at the free throw line almost cost the boys from McHenry county the game, as they made just four of 14 while the Eagles were carding 16 of 23.

Leyden led all the way, only to lose in the overtime. Quarter scores were 9-4, 14-12, 22-18 and 28-28. Parsley led the winners with 14 points, while Hamilton dropped in 11 for the losers.

every opponent on their schedule. All but one member of the team are Palatine high school girls. George Beyer, principal of the Lutheran school, is their coach.

Busse wins letter at Oklahoma A&M

We hear that George Busse who had a great senior year in Arlington High athletics is going great as a sophomore at Oklahoma A&M. Busse won a varsity football letter last fall as a sophomore. At Arlington Busse was a great fullback, a fine basketball forward on a Northeast champ team, and a very good hurdler and sprinter.

Ela will be up there next year

Mark our prediction. Ela will be near the top battling for the championship next year. They have real coming material in their frosh-soph team with plenty of size. Most of the varsity regulars graduate but Kalkbrenner, six foot two junior, came into his own in the closing weeks to spark the team to several victories, including wins over old rivals, Barrington and Palatine. Ladd, an awkward but hefty six foot four junior, will be a handy boy to have around. Yes, we like Ela along with Barrington and Bensenville next year and Antioch next in line for the first division.

Bisons meet with tough luck

As our deadline approaches Tuesday evening we learn that Dick Steffensen, high scoring Bensenville forward, will not play for the Bisons in the regional tournament. Dick fell in the Wauconda game and chipped a bone in the right elbow. He will be lucky to be in shape to pitch baseball in April.

Steffensen scored 12 points in the recent league cage season. He is a lefty so it is not his pitching arm that is injured Bensenville got a wonderful tourney draw but that has been nullified by the injury and Coach Meneguin does not have a good scorer as a replacement.

Knowledge of Sugar

First clear knowledge to reach the Western world of sugar as a product obtainable from cultivated plants was the account brought back to Europe by the Greek soldiers of Alexander the Great of the reed grown in India for its juice which, they said, was sweeter than honey.

Palatine dealt double defeat by Ela fives

Palatine closed the Northwest conference season Friday with a double loss at Ela. The varsity fell into the second division as they lost, 31-28. The frosh-sophs lost a double overtime game, 36-34, to one of the best frosh-soph teams in this area.

The Palatine varsity had things their own way the first half as they built up an 18-13 lead but the second half was a different story. Ela outfought the Pirates and Kalkbrenner and Salem hit the basket well to give the Bears the lead early in the final quarter. Palatine's poor basket shooting in the second half stopped any chance they had of winning. Pepper scored 11 points for Palatine but was way off form in his shooting. Ela's offense was well divided but Salem led with four baskets on long shots. Kalkbrenner played well and along with Ladd and Biere gave Ela so much height around the basket that Palatine got few rebounds.

ELA HELD a substantial lead in the early stages of the Frosh-Soph game. They were on top 17-11 at the half and 25-21 going into the final quarter. Two baskets by Waznik late in the final period tied the score. In the first overtime Waznik hit the basket twice in quick succession and Ross sank two free throws for what appeared to be plenty of points to win the game.

However, Schwarz scored two baskets and a free throw to narrow the margin and with five seconds to play, Geary made the tying free throw. In the sudden death second overtime Mortorano, who had missed a game winning free throw in the last quarter, came through with the game ending field goal.

Ela's frosh-sophs finished the season a game behind Barrington's champs who beat them twice by two points. Prouty, Schwarz, Grever, Geary, and Poeschal shared the scoring. John Waznik was the whole show as a scorer for Palatine with 14 points. Palatine finished with a 7-7 record. Ela won 11 out of 14.

Libertyville beats Crystal Lake by narrow margin

Libertyville took the measure of Crystal Lake in the topsy turvy Northeast conference race Friday night, 37-36. After a 22-13 halftime deficit for the Tigers, they almost caught the Wildcats the final period.

Holmgren and Meyers dropped in ten and nine points for the winners, while Bruner and Raywood were sinking 12 and ten for the losers.

Junior-varsity fracas saw a forecast of the next night's game for Libertyville as they were almost upset by fourth place Crystal Lake, 32-31. The Wildkittens held a 20-9 advantage at the intermission, but that was massacred, 14-8, the final segment.

Wells was high with 12 scores for Libertyville while Crystal Lake had J. Franz leading at paydirt by virtue of 11 scores.

Card frosh sight tourney

Arlington Heights frosh cage squad closed their regular season Saturday when they traveled to Lake Forest and walked off the floor with a 30-14 victory tucked under their belts. This gave the Card yearlings a 9-2 record for the year. Both losses were to Leyden.

Locals have now set their sights on the freshman tournament to be held in the Heights gymnasium Saturday morning and afternoon, March 6. This meet will pit the host school, Lake Forest, Libertyville, and Warren for honors. Drawing of opponents will take place at 9 a. m. with game time 9:30 a. m. and 2:00 p. m.. Tommy Kouzmanoff will referee the tourney. No admission.

LEADING the Card frosh offensively were Griffith and Schwartz, who both tallied five times from the field. Griffith added two free tosses to his total.

Arlington led at the half, 14-7.

Niles wins extra from Highland Park

by BILL NEUSON

The Niles Trojans won their first non-conference game this season when they whipped Highland Park 56 to 43 at Niles, Saturday, Feb. 21.

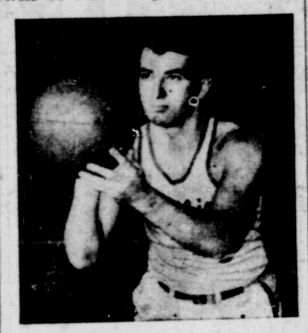

All 12 boys on the squad played in the game for Niles. Howard Siegel and Gordon Anderson tied for scoring honors with 12 points each for Niles. But Plummer of Highland Park was high scorer for the game with 19 points on six baskets and seven free throws.

Coach Hussey's Jay Vees of Niles continued their winning basketball when they won their tenth straight game from the frosh-soph of Highland Park, 44 to 29.

All boys played in the game for the Trojans. Forward Fred Brei led the Trojans attack with 10 points while Coleman of Highland Park was high with 12 points for his team.

Stadium card

Featured on the Stadium card this Friday night, February 27, will be Paul Cloyd and the Sheboygan Redskins, who will oppose Anderson Packers in the preliminary to the Chicago Stag — Boston Celtic contest. The Stags set a new record in beating the Celtics, 97-77, last week, and will be out to renew the feud Friday.

Then Sunday afernoon at 1:30 the Stags will oppose Washington Capitols in another BAA game, with George Mikan's Minneapolis Lakers opposing Syracuse Nationals.

Chicago's most famous basketball player — George Mikan, former DePaul University All-American, will be honored at the Chicago Stadium Sunday, February 29, with a "George Mikan Day." A committee of seven will present the star center with a host of gifts and good wishes on behalf of Mikan's friends in and around Chicago. Anyone who wishes to join in honoring Mikan is asked to write to the Mikan Day committee at the Chicago Stadium. The presentation will be made betwen halfs of the Syracuse National-Minneapolis Laker, National League basketball game at the Stadium, Sunday afternoon February 29.

the hoop and tied up the game. Woodstock brought the ball down the floor and missed several shots before Arlington took over with about 20 seconds left. The Cards passed the ball around with Shanley taking a pass from Roche and pumping in a long side shot with only three seconds remaining.

Helm took the high scoring honors for the night by hitting 6 field goals and 1 free toss for 13 points. By hitting 4 straight field goals the final quarter, Schaeffer managed to tie Heimsoth for high point honors on the Arlington squad with 11 tallies.

THE ARLINGTON Junior varsity cage squad really poured it on the Woodstock Jayvees in the preliminary tilt as it slaughtered the Streaks, who gave the Cards quite a battle some time ago, by a 43-13 final calculation. This win chalked up number 13 for the Arlington underclassmen against 5 losses.

The locals ran up an 8-1 lead in the first quarter on 2 baskets by Bob Cowen, and one each by Eugene Busse and Chuck Fischer. Rockstead hit the only Woodstock tally.

In the second period, the Junior Cards racked up 14 counters to the Streaks' 4, and thus took the lead at half time, 22-5. Fischer was hot for the locals in this frame as he notched up 6 points on 3 field goals. Paul Mueller, Paul Roche, Eugene Busse and Bob Cowen divided the other 8 markers. Larson and Dermone hit 2 points apiece for the Blue Streaks in this quarter.

MUELLER, Busse, Roche, and Augie Krause each connected for 2 tallies in the third segment as the Cards once again outscored their opponents, this time 8-5. Tryon paced Woodstock with 3 points in this quarter. The score going into the final period was 30-10 in favor of the locals.

Substitutes finished most of the final period for both teams and as a result the Cards once more outpointed the Streaks by a 13-3 margin. Marv Prellberg sparked the Arlington fourth quarter attack by hitting 4 field-goals. Mueller notched 3 more tallies and Jim Brown and Krause each a charity toss. Schroeder tallied all of Woodstock's counters. The game ended in a conference win for the Arlington Junior Varsity, 43-13.

Cards nose out Libertyville

by MARVIN PRELLBERG

Arlington Heights, still celebrating Friday night's thrilling victory over Woodstock, went out on the home court Saturday evening and rang up victory No. 15 for Coach Gene Bell against eight setbacks when it nosed out a scrappy Libertyville team in a Northeast conference game by a three-point margin, 38-35. This victory ended the Cards' conference play at 10 wins and 4 losses, and Arlington is going to give Leyden its fullest support when the Eagles meet the Niles Trojans this Friday on Leyden's floor.

If the Eagles can come through with a win from the Trojans, then Arlington will find itself in a tie for the Northeast title with Leyden, Niles and Woodstock, providing that the Blue Streaks beat hot and cold Libertyville the same evening. If Niles should emerge the victor, then the Trojans would have the championship all for themselves.

THE ARLINGTON-Libertyville contest got off to a fast start with both teams playing nip-and-tuck ball and exchanging basket for basket until when the buzzer sounded ending the first quarter, the score was knotted up at 12 all. Three local cagers divided the scoring for Arlington in this period with Vic Heimsoth, Orv Schaeffer, and Bill Robinson each hitting two field-goals. Meyers was hot for the Wildcats in the first segment as he hit for 6 counters, while Tom Herr notched the other 4 points and Holmgren 2.

The offensive play slowed down a bit in the next frame, but through the marksmanship of their hot-shooting forward, Orv Schaeffer, the Cards once more outpointed the Cats, 8-4, to take the half-time lead, 20-16. Schaeffer swished the hoop for 2 baskets and the same number of freethrows in this period to account for 6 points. Phil Roche hit 2 more tallies to bring the 8 point total. Otis' 2 markers were high for Libertyville's second quarter scoring whereas Herr and Meyers notched 1 freethrow apiece.

PLAY WAS QUITE even in the third segment and as a result the two squads deadlocked in scoring at 11-11. Beckman and Heimsoth's 4 points apiece led the Cards offensively, and Robinson and Schaeffer summed it up with 2 and 1 points respectively. Holmgren hit for 6 counters to become the spark-plug of the Woldcats' attack and was followed by Meyers who tallied 4 points and Otis who sank a charity toss. Going into the final period, the locals were in front by a scant 4 markers, 31-27.

The Cards hung on to the ball in the decisive quarter, and took out numerous free-shots near the end of the game to stall out a 38-35 victory over the clawing Cats. Heimsoth went out on fouls in this frame but still led the Arlington offense with a basket and a free-throw. Schaeffer and Robinson added the other 4 points by each hitting a goal each from the field. Libertyville's final attack, which netted 8 points, was headed by its high-scoring center, Meyers, who tallied 4 counters.

Meyers poured in 5 field goals and 5 out of 8 free pitches to win high scoring honors for the night with 15 points. Schaeffer was right behind with 13 markers.

Arlington plays its last scheduled contest this Saturday evening at Palatine. Then it will enter the Elgin regional, March 2-5.

THE CARDINAL Junior Varsity closed its season last Saturday evening, except for a frosh-soph tilt at Palatine, by getting sweet revenge over league leading Libertyville squad as it soundly trounced the Wildkittens in the preliminary contest, 37-22. The game featured the play of two high-scoring cagers, Eugene Busse and Bill Wells, and Busse seemed to have the better end of the deal, both offensively and defensively. Busse put in a total of 15 points while holding Wells, who had been averaging 16 points per game, to but 8 markers.

The locals poured it on in the first few minutes of play, piling up a juicy 11-0 lead. Then Wells finally hit the Wildkittens first shot, and the quarter ended with Arlington on top, 13-2. Busse played remarkable ball in this first quarter as he put in 4 field goals for 8 points.

The locals were slowed down considerably in the second period and had to settle for 9 counters against the same number for Libertyville. Ron Obermann and Busse paced Arlington with four apiece, whereas Wells and Hansen had the same number to lead the Kittens. The score at the intermission was in the Cards' favor as they doubled the count on their opponents, 22-11.

ARLINGTON ONCE again played top-notch ball in the next period and outscored Libertyville, 8-2, to take a 30-13 lead at the end of the third segment. Obermann's 4 counters were high for the junior Cards in this period, Paul Roche was close behind with 3 and Bob Cowen had 1 free throw. Wells notched the Wildkittens' lone basket.

Libertyville outscored the Cards for the first time in the final frame by a 9-7 count. However, this was not near enough and the contest was rung up in Arlington's favor to the tune of 37-22. This win gave Coach George Gibson's charges an overall record of 14 wins and 5 losses, and a final conference record of 10 and 4.

ZEMO

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—it's itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood if good heath is to endure.

When the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feel tired, nervous, all worn out.

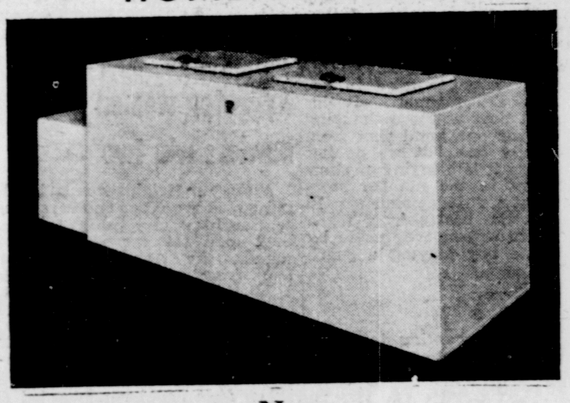

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. Use Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

Dear Jane:

No one dislikes being pushed about in a crowd more than I, but there are times in our lives, as parents we are forced to join the mob because our children crave to see what is going on in the busy world.

Take yesterday, for instance. Rob and I weren't particularly interested, in the World Hobby Show at the Coliseum, but Geo. and Edward were, so we left the complacent atmosphere of the farm, and drove the many miles to Chicago to enter that huge stadium fairly teeming with people and objects.

In my naive way, I expected to see the personal hobbies of people from all over the world. You know, booths with banners flying and gayly dressed people, exhibiting wood-carving from Switzerland, and little old Irish ladies showing how they make that beautiful lace of theirs, and silversmiths from Mexico. You see what I mean? But instead it is a show lacking pageantry of not more than 150 exhibitors 99 per cent of them commercial manufacturers.

Although there were many women attending yesterday this is mainly an exhibition for men. There were only two exhibits of needlework a small booth of crochet and knitting samples and another stall showing embroidered aprons — the kind one can see at any church bazaar. And there wasn't an antique exhibitor in the place.

Of course if you are interested in stamp collecting I guess you might be able to sit down and swap a few over the tables that are set up on a balcony for this purpose and there's a wall hung with enlarged photographs that might encourage those who are feeling their way around with a candid camera. There's a collection of cigar bands and cigar box tops too, but I hardly think you'd be interested in that Jane.

Still your men folks would I think be excited about those tiny jet propelled submarines that fairly zim before your surprised eyes down a long water trough. And small (not any larger than the kind your boys buy at the dime stores) jet propelled autos race down a 50 foot table to stop abruptly in feather pillows. Geo. and Edward liked watching these cars. And their attention was held for some time by the boys from various aeronautical clubs who flew their handmade gasoline fired planes within a screened enclosure. Awards are given to the boys for the planes showing the best performances in taking off flying and landing.

For the boy and man interested in electronics there are some marvelous things to see. Though this sort of thing leaves me cold, I dutifully lingered at the side of my men when they stopped to look at such. That is, I made an effort to stay near them. I wasn't always successful, for the crowd was tremendously large, and sometimes I found myself pushed right along, willy-nilly.

They say there is every size model railroad engine from tiny steam or electric jobs to a 160 pound fully operating steam model which burns coal and goes 15 miles an hour. Our boys, by careful maneuver, were able to get close enough to see the fine Baltimore and Ohio exhibit of moving electric trains. This, no doubt and unfortunately, will make their own Lionel trains look obsolete.

There are also 74 varieties of tropical fish, and plastic babushkas to be seen — and purchased — in case you can't live without wanting to have either or both

Oh, well, it wasn't too bad to take, I suppose, but sometimes I think parents sacrifice an awful lot for their children, if you know what I mean

Until next week, with love, Mary.

P. S. I would like to add that, "Just Around the Corner" last week, should have read at the close of the column: "And so, with this little song I say, God Bless all our homes this day," instead of "this way," as printed.

The younger generation

Marsha Jan and Thomas J. Freeman III, children of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Freeman Jr., 174 S. Center, Bensenville, are the first youngster in our baby parade this week.

Marsha Jan, three and one-fourth years old, and her brother "Tommy," one and one-half years old, have blonde hair and like to wear plaids. Marsha even likes a wear a plaid bow in her hair.

Shirley June Niemeyer, center, three and one-half years old, approves of wearing a ribbon in her hair, too. Her picture recalls to mind the poem about the "little girls with the curl in the middle of her forehead." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Niemeyer, 635 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

Gary Roy Orcutt, right, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Orcutt Jr., 612 N. Chestnut street, Arlington Heights, is the fourth youngster on our baby panel this week. Gary, who is nineteen months old, has blue eyes and blond hair.

Ice Capades open at Arena March 15

"Ice Capades of 1948", gorgeous eighth edition of the annual ice skating revue that the Chicago area has come to relish highly, will be presented at the Chicago Arena starting March 15. There will be nightly performances through April 1, in addition to Sunday matinees March 21 and 28.

"Ice Capades of 1948" is an elaborate production in two parts and 23 numbers, all brand new, produced by John H. Harris and directed by Chester Hale of Hollywood and Broadway fame.

The huge cast of nearly 200 includes such favorites as Donna Atwood, Bobby Specht, The Old Smoothies, Eric Waite, Mullen Twins and Raiche, Nate and Edythe Walley, Forgie and Larson, Esco La Rue, Trixie, Phil Taylor, Red McCarthy, Denise and Francine Benoit, Jackson and Lynam, Alan Konrad, Dench and Stewart, Chuckie Stein, Patti Phillippi, Mary Irwin, Frank St. Amant, Don Bearson, Helen Davidson, John Flanagan, Mary Steichter, Joe Setta and Pat Mathews.

'Opportunity Hour' at Arlington high disciplines errant students

by MARY DeFALCO

"Opportunity! Here I come!" There is a system at Arlington high which offers an opportunity to the students—so the teachers think. The students, who have a somewhat different opinion, dread Opportunity Hall. With a summons to the office, knees begin to quake and the mind starts to wonder if sins have been discussed. But to Opportunity Hall goes the culprit—if to such a fate he has been sentenced.

What is Opportunity Hour? Opportunity for what? It's a place for the student to make-up any work he has missed and a place to learn what discipline means. It also gives him time to realize that "crime doesn't pay." He soon finds out that he can't get away with much at A. H.T.H.S. without the office learning about it.

ON ANY school day from 3:04 to 3:45 p. m., up in Room 205, ten to thirty students may be seen working industriously. It almost looks as if each student was working to get out of purgatory, for what normal American boy or girl cares to stay after school when there are hundreds of more fascinating things to do?

Opportunity Hour has been in effect since September 29, 1947. It resembles the Seventh Hour or Detention Hall of previous years. This year a few changes have been made in disciplining the student in both his conduct and his work. All of the students at Arlington high are familiar with the purpose and rule of Opportunity Hall. If they haven't learned it by being informed through their home room or by the grape-vine, they eventually learn it through experience.

Here are some of the causes that may open the door of opportunity. A student who has an unexcused tardiness is automatically assigned to Opportunity Hall. A student who has been absent for two or more days is assigned as a means of getting his work made up. He must go there every night until he has made up his work. A student who is a disipline problem may be assigned to Opportunity Hall at the teacher's descretion.

If a student makes a habit of coming into class late, he may be assigned to Opportunity Hour until the habit is broken. In case a student has a job after school, if he is assigned to Opportunity Hour, he must, nevertheless, report there. If it means losing his job, he may go to work that day; but he must inform his employer that he will not be in until later the following day. Coming late to Opportunity Hall will automatically give the student an extra night in Room 205.

MISS HANAUER supplies the teacher in charge of Opportunity Hall with a list of those who are to report. If a student fails to appear, the teacher in charge reports his absence to Miss Hanauer. The student must then report for the next two nights. The only persons who can excuse a student from Opportunity Hour are Mr. Knoeppel, Mr. Slichenmeyer, and Miss Handlin.

Most of the teachers have Opportunity too! For one week during the school year a teacher is assigned to "open the door of Opportunity when the student knocks." The office assigns this task alphabetically starting at the beginning of the list. The teacher in charge insists on promptness and quietness so that the atmosphere will allow beneficial study.

Every cause has an effect. The reasons for that hour after school for a day, or two, or more, usually produces an effect. The effect in this case is usually a more chastened spirit that has a higher regard for work, punctuality, and authority.

OPPORTUNITY HOUR at A. H.T.H.S. is an ordeal for both students and teachers. However, the bitter comes with the sweet. Wherever healthy young America gathers, negligence and mischief appear. But these qualities must be checked to make Mr. and Miss Young America more reliant. To some of us "Opportunity" at Arlington High never knocks; to some, once; to others, more than once. That knock, no matter how loud or how hard, is really a gentle push through the door of experience.

Some day, when we are Mr. and Mrs. Old America, we may realize that that dreaded Opportunity Hour was actually an opportunity to think of a better way of living. We may even say, "I can still hear my knees knock the day I went to Opportunity Hall. But thanks to dear old Arlington High, I learned the meaning that day of the familiar saying, "Crime does not pay."

Heights has another 1st place winner in New York dog show

Mac Mars Dangerous Don or "Don," English springer spaniel owned by Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Herweg of Elk Grove Kennels, Arlington Heights, took first place in limit males at the Westminster Kennel Club dog show at Madison Square Gardens, New York City.

Last week's Herald told about Dr. H. J. Carr's Irish setter taking first place in the puppy class at the same show.

Raising English springer spaniels and sable and white Bellhaven strain collies is just a hobbie for Mr. and Mrs. Herweg.

While the Herwegs were East they stopped in East Orange, N. J., to visit Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Erick. Mrs. Erick is Mrs. Herweg's sister. They are both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Baumgartner of Bensenville.

Australian Atom Bomb

Chief center of research into the theory and nature of atomic energy in Australia is the nuclear physics laboratory of the University of Melbourne, where a huge Van De Graaf machine for accelerating particles for atom smashing has been completed. The machine was made wholly in Melbourne from Australian materials. It generates 1,000,000 volts. It is the first construction of its kind in Australia and took over 12 months to complete. The design was taken from a German blueprint, which was altered to suit Australian materials and equipment.

William Heuers pass 50th wedding mark

Fifty Golden Years of marriage were observed February 17 by Mr. and Mrs. William Heuer Sr. of Glenview.

Many relatives and friends attended the open house given by the Heuers in honor of the occasion. The couple were presented with many lovely gifts, including an azealea plant from the Ladies Aid of the Northfield Lutheran church.

Preceding the Heuer's anniversary, members of their pinochle club gave them a surprise party, and also gave them a platform rocker.

Mr. and Mrs. Heuer were married fifty years ago in the St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights. After their marriage they moved to Glenview, where they operated their own farm.

The Heuers have two sons, Edward of Des Plaines, and William of Glenview; one daughter, Lillian Werhane of Northbrook; and six grandchildren.

Health talk

Exercise must be taken regularly for benefits

Exercise alone cannot maintain good health, yet many people believe it can. Good health, meaning that warm inner state of well-being and its accompanying energy, together with freedom from disease, comes not from exercise alone, but from a balanced understanding of everyday living — the proper food, sufficient rest and a normal outlook on life, the Educational Committee of the Illinois State Medical Society pointed out in one of its health talks.

Exercise, however, is a step forward in the whole process of good healthful living. As in everything else, moderation is required in the output of physical effort. Planned exercise, carried on in moderation, keeps the obdy flexible and supple. The abdomen, for example, can be kept flat and smooth by regular bending and stretching.

Too much emphasis cannot be placed on the circulation of the blood within the body, since it is this process that maintains to a high level the normal functions of the body. A chief value of exercise is to stimulate the general chemistry and physiology of the body through its effect on the circulation and on elimination.

This stimulation keeps the action of the muscles smooth and improves the coordination of nerves and muscles. That is particularly true in persons beyond twenty years of age. In young persons, exercise serves to stimulate body growth generally. Vigorous sports can be considered useful up to age 30, but after that, more harm than good may result from overactivity.

Suitable and mild exercise for persons in all ages includes swimming, walking, golf, horseback riding, fishin and gardening. Certain exercise, if excessive, will cause severe muscle strain and exhaustion, leaving the body in a state of susceptibility to many conditions that will cause pain and discomfort.

In a man at rest about a gallon of blood is circulated every minute. According to one authority, approximately the entire blood supply of the individual visits the tissues once every minute under resting conditions. With vigorous exercise these visits may be eight or nine times as frequent. The blood, instead of traveling at a rate of 55 feet a minut in the large arteries, may move at a rate of 450 feet a minute.

The greater rapidity of the blood flow must therefore make possible a more rapid and complete removal of waste from all parts of the body, and naturally increases the amount of oxygen in certain parts of the body depending on it. Exercise taken simply and regularly tends to keep soft the arteries or canals that convey the blood through the body, warding off arteriosclerosis or a condition that usually accompanies old age.

Cribbings from TOTVILLE

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hall, 713 Patton avenue, really celebrated Friday, the thirteenth this year. It was that day in February that they chose to move from Chicago to their new home in Arlington Heights. It was also that day that Mr. Stork decided to deliver their little baby girl. She was born at the Michael Reese hospital and weighed in at 7 pounds 9 ounces. The Halls have named her Kathryn Ann, and she is their first child.

Also announcing the arrival of a daughter are Mr. and Mrs. William Brackman, 465 Slade ave., Elgin. The baby was born February 17 at the Sherman hospital, Elgin. Mrs. Brackman is the former Ruth Blaschke of Palatine. The Brackmans also have a son, Tommy.

Proud parents of a son are Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Meachem, 5 S. Emerson St., Mt. Prospect. The little boy, Darrel John, was born February 19 at the St. Francis hospital, Evanston, and tipped the scales at 6 pounds 4 ounces. Mrs. Meachem is the former Bernice Bencic.

Florida and California

Florida and California may become rivals in production of guava, a fruit which grows wild from Mexico to Peru. The fruit is rounded to pearlike in shape and two to three inches in diameter. The skin is thin and light yellow in color. Powder made from the guava was used by the British troops in World War II as a source of vitamin C. Four ounces of powder protected a soldier against scurvy for nearly three months.

Lake Zurich family has read 'Paddock's paper' 56 years

When Fred Kropp, Lake Zurich, dropped into the publication office last week he volunteered the information that he had read "Paddock's paper fifty-six years, ever since I was 15 years old." An interesting interview followed as a staff photographer snapped his picture.

The Kropps have lived on the same farm and in the same house over 100 years. Paddock's paper has been coming regularly to that house ever since 1892 when H. C. Paddock, founder of Paddock Publications, started the Libertyville Independent.

As Mr. H. C. Paddock moved to Palatine in 1898, the new "Paddock's Paper" took the place of its predecessor.

"Why, I can remember the good old days when I used to trade five bushels of oats for a year's subscription to the newspaper," recalled Fred Kropp.

"In those days H. C. Paddock depended upon his team of horses to reach possible subscribers. My mother always had the latch string out for the editor and he frequently remained over night and even over Sunday.

"After Saturday night supper, we'd start one of our 'conversation binges' about politics, newspapers and things in general."

"Yes," agreed Mrs. Kropp, who was Louise Meyer before her marriage and whose mother was a Quintens, "when those two got together, they never knew when it was time to go to bed."

While reminiscing about old times, Mr. Kropp brought up some interesting facts about how "things sure have changed."

Take a hired man, for instance.

"Nowadays you pay a man as much in one day as he used to get for a whole week," Kropp recalled.

For $17 or $18 a month, a farmer could get "an awful good man" for the eight-month farming season who did odd jobs around the house in the winter to pay for his board.

"Today you have to pay $125 per month and now we have electric milking machines, power tractors and other gadgets to make the farmer's job easier."

Kropp also remembers the days when fifty cents was plenty of spending money. Every September, the date of the annual Lake Co. Fair, if all the farm chores were done, the boys were allowed to drive the team of horses to the Libertyville fair, where five cents was enough for two bags of popcorn.

"Believe it or not," Kropp stated, "many times we even had change left over from the fifty-cent allowance to save for the next good time."

Mr. Kropp has had several offers for the sale of his farm, the latest being three years ago, but he prefers to remain "unretired."

There were seven children in the family, only three of whom are living. They are Mrs. Henry Roder and Mrs. Louis Schultz, both of Palatine, in addition to Kropp.

"We look forward every Friday to getting our newspaper," Mr. and Mrs. Kropp agree. "We like to read the big-time news in the Chicago papers, but the local news in the weekly paper means more to us because it's mostly about people we know."

Altnough Mr. Kropp is "71 past now," he still maintains an eighty acre farm on Rand road near Lake Zurich. He keeps 82 heifers on the farm and two cows and two horses, in addition to hogs, turkeys and chickens.

He has always lived on the same farm which his grandfather, Frederick Kropp, received from the government. Part of the house now standing on the property was built about 1844.

Recently they had some replastering done in their kitchen and in a knothole in the studding in the wall they found an old letter dated September 3, 1844, written by a carpenter and addressed to the land office in Chicago, attesting that he had constructed a house on the site of the present Kropp homestead.

George Weineke and Ed Tonne of Palatine are the carpenters who found the old papers when they remodeled the farm house.

At the same time the letter was found, the carpenters discovered a part of an old newspaper dated Tuesday, June 10, 1851. The name of the paper was the "Prairie Herald," and the subject matter of the legible portion discussed "legislation against alcohol. The legislation demanded is not new. It is as old as the government . . . "

Program group of district women to meet this Monday

On Monday, March 1, at 10:15 a. m., the program bureau of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, will hold their regular monthly audition at the Central Eleanor club, 17 N. State st. The lecturers to be presented are Louise Kay, Katherine Parker and Mrs. Tyng Munns. Harry Batron will give dramatic readings and Norman Hallock, a travelogue. The musicians to be heard are Dorothy Richardson, vocalist; the Charm Quartet; and Dutton-French, a marimba and piano duo.

Program chairmen of Women's clubs affiliated with the Federation are urged to attend these auditions where they will hear artists and lecturers whom they may present on their own club programs. Mrs. L. M. Zook, 5037 N. Lowell ave., is chairman of the state program bureau.

Libertyville to vote on new school

The Libertyville grade school board last week decided to hold a referendum on a proposal to float a $625,000 bond issue. The money would be used to defray the cost of a new school building and acquire a site. Saturday, March 20, was fixed as the date for voting.

GOVERNMENT BUSINESS

You can get rid of income tax reports in sixteen years, if you take business out of government. Our income tax for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1947, was $25,396,395,204.70. Our internal revenue tax for the same time was $39,108,385,741.63. Total receipts of government from taxes this same year was $64,506,778,946.33.

Our national debt as of June 30 is 258 billions. If we save 12½ billions a year, we could pay our national debt in 16 years. If we saved 25 billions, it would take only 8 years to pay our national debt.

SAVE is a word that is not used in our president's vocabulary. You ask, how can we save 12½ or 25 billion in a year? That is easy: simply take our government out of business.

In the bulletin of the treasury of the United States, page 47, Section 1, Table 5, on government corporations and certain other business activities, you will find under liabilities, "expended appropriations — $41,281,900,000 for government corporations and agencies." The assets given were cash on hand, 839½ millions plus some notes and securities.

The governemnt is now running so many banking organizations, their subsidiaries and business, that it will take pages in your notebook to list them.

These corporations must be liquidated. Private banks and private industry can handle all these enterprises under free initiative as a profit. This would be a great saving to our tax payers and stop government blundering.

Let us get on to the Road to Recovery.

W. de Lhorbe,
Oregon, Ill.

Weekly recipe

Casserole dishes are always time savers for busy home-makers because they may be prepared ahead of time and popped into the oven just at the right moment for the meal. This is a whole meal dish — a vegetable salad will be a perfect companion.

Eggs in Casserole

1 cup diced cooked celery
1 cup diced boiled potatoes
8 hard coked eggs, sliced
1 tbsp. chopped pimento
1 tsp. diced green pepper
1½ cup medium white sauce
buttered bread crumbs.

Method: Combine all ingredients with white sauce. Pour into well buttered baking dish and sprinkle buttered bread crumbs over all. Bake in preheated oven at 450 degrees for 18 minutes.
Yield: 6 servings.

● LION OR LAMB

Monday is the first of March and folks who go by the old weather signs will be wondering if the new month will come in like a lion or a lamb.

The groundhog told us that spring wouldn't get here before the middle of March; cactus plants, which are still blooming, tell us that we are still in for some winter weather; and we haven't seen any skunks wandering around, so we don't know what their forecast is.

But, regardless of skunks and cactus, the days are getting longer, the sun is getting warmer and there really is a hint of spring in the air.

● BACK FROM DIXIE

All those fellows who returned from the sunny south last week are taking the credit for the recent thaw, claiming they brought some of that warm Dixie weather with them.

Al DePue and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy LaLonde, and Ray Holtze, all of whom came back last week, have been wondering what the rest of us have been kicking about as far as the recent weather was concerned.

● REMINDER OF WPA

A contractor planning to bid on the sewage disposal plant met a friend on the street.

A companion remarked, "You seem to run into someone you know all over this territory."

"Oh yes," replied the contractor. "I knew that fellow back in the WPA days. He was selling what they were giving away."—shades of the WPA.

● MOVING OUT

Many car owners are not waiting for the armless bandits to be installed before finding new parking sites for their cars.

Many cars are being parked in the residence district close to the Palatine "loop"; the exodus of cars from the downtown section has been very noticeable in recent weeks.

"You'd almost think there was a funeral on some of those streets," remarked Police Chief Charlie Folz the other afternoon.

● OLD DAYS

One of the old timers was watching the spring thaw send the ice and snow pouring into rivulets into the sewers the other day and he remarked, "Guess there's been an old-fashioned winter, all right, but not like some I remember."

And he told of winters when he was on a farm, of the days before paved roads and snow plows. He reminded us how for weeks the only way farmers could get milk to factories was to find a trail through fields, cut fences in some places, drive over huge snowdrifts, and sometimes use regular roads only for a quarter of a mile.

Nowadays if a road isn't opened immediately after a storm, a big holler goes up to the state, county or township authorities.

● FOUR FOOT FROST

But just the same, there has been a four-foot frost on the ground this winter. Ask the folks who have had water pipes four feet in the ground, freeze up.

Lake Michigan has been frozen from shore to shore for the first time in years, and there's more ice in the Chicago river than there has been for 30 years, according to weather records.

● EARLY BIRDS

We saw the first robins of the season around our feeding ground on the morning of February 19.

The balmy weather of the last few days had evidently coaxed them from the southern parts of the state. But those birds probably will wish many times that they had stayed a month longer in the warm climes.

Another early bird was Clarence Uhrhammer, whom we saw dashing out to wash his windows the other day when the weather was so balmy.

● MAIL SERVICE

Many local folks have been wondering what can be done to improve the mail service. The boys are doing the best they can under present conditions, but the public would like to see service whereby a letter mailed in Arlington Heights on Thursday would be delivered in Palatine before the following Monday.

● SAVED

It looks like we had saved one subscription for the boss, anyway, and that's the one of the lady who called us down recently for having enough of our groundhog and cactus stories.

The "grape vine" informs us that this lady thinks we're on the "improve" lately and that she isn't going to cancel her subscription.

Well, that's nice to hear, and Trix, the weather up here is moderating a bit. We hope some of the balmy air of last week blew up there where you've been having 18 below zero weather for three weeks.

● BANDIT STORIES

The other day we say a farmer with a handful of change paying for some cigars.

He was cussing out the "white" pennies that look like dimes.

"Oh, well," he mused, "soon I'll be getting rid of these pennies in the parking meters."

Another farmer, looking at the cars of some "all day parkers," remarked, "if they'd enforce those two hour parking signs, we wouldn't have to drop a nickel into the slot everytime we come to town."

Bits O' business

America's life insurance companies have invested 400 million dollars in rental housing projects, completed or under way, which are designed to take care of about 200,000 persons . . . Fifty of the biggest American companies earned a total average profit of less than $2 billion during the years between 1942-46 and required assets of $47 billion to do so. Hence their war year earnings averaged only four per cent of the total money involved in conducting these businesses . . . Under current conditions it requires capital of about $10,000 to start a dealership for much in demand farm implements . . . The magic word "free" will have to be used more carefully in advertising. A recent Federal Trade Commission ruling permits the use of the word only when free goods are offered with no strings attached, such as an obligation to buy one package to get another as a "gift" . . . With direct mail promotion booming, the business of compiling lists of possible customers has become a big industry in itself, with compiling companies collecting about $200 milloin for their specialized services last year . . . The movie industry's continuing economy drive may give you more entertaining film fare. Some industry leaders say that less money to spend on movie production will mean more striving for originality and hence better pictures.

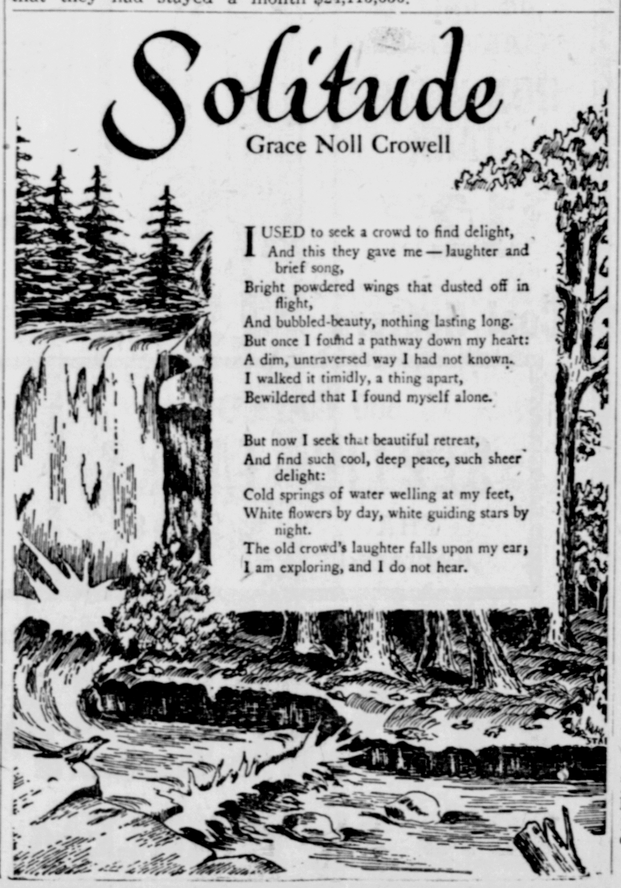

January bond sales

January sales of U. S. Savings Bonds in Illinois totaled $74,106,668, according to Arnold J. Rauen, State Director of the Treasury's U. S. Savings Bonds Division.

Series E sales were $46,024,859; Series F, $3,966,159; and Series G, $24,115,650.

Solitude

Grace Noll Crowell

I USED to seek a crowd to find delight,
And this they gave me — laughter and brief song,
Bright powdered wings that dusted off in flight,
And bubbled-beauty, nothing lasting long.
But once I found a pathway down my heart:
A dim, untraversed way I had not known.
I walked it timidly, a thing apart,
Bewildered that I found myself alone.

But now I seek that beautiful retreat,
And find such cool, deep peace, such sheer delight:
Cold springs of water welling at my feet,
White flowers by day, white guiding stars by night.
The old crowd's laughter falls upon my ear;
I am exploring, and I do not hear.

Palatine has social club

The Palatine Social club has organized and rented and furnished rooms in the Schering building, which are opened for the amusement of its 35 members. The boys have organized for purely social reasons and rules have been adopted that will prohibit all gambling and disorderliness from the rooms.

The members elected the following officers: Wm. Langhorst, president; Fred Ebel, vice president; Al Dahms, secretary; Wm. Engelking, treasurer and Emory Hartlett, financial secretary.

Amateurs beat professional bowlers

The Amateurs beat the Professionals at Palatine Thursday night. A picked team of bowlers captained by Rufus Starck, defeated Chas. Seip's all star team by 109 pins in three games.

Chas. Seip had purchased crepe with which to adorn the hats of the Amateurs, but when the latter showed their superiority over his team, the crepe was made use of to adorn the hats of the Professionals.

Itasca church gets new piano

The new piano for the Itasca Sunday school arrived February 12 in fine condition. It will be used for the evening service Sunday nights hereafter.

Next week Mrs. Eggleston will give the boys and girls a talk on how the boy shall choose his wife and how the girl shall choose her husband. The admission of five cents will help pay for the new piano.

Married Sunday at Hanover

Miss Bertha S. Quandt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Quandt and Charles H. Knake, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Knake, were married Sunday, February 9, at 11:00 o'clock at the Evangelical church, Hanover.

The bridesmaids were Amanda Quandt, Amanda Volkening and Alma Knake. The gentlemen in attendance were Herman and Henry Knake and Herman Flenge.

The bride wore an elegant white silk dress with lace trimmings and carried a bouquet of red and pink roses. The groom also looked charming in his lovely new suit.

The drivers were Henry Lamprecht and Henry Danel. The horses and sleighs were trimmed with roses and ribbons.

The guests were entertained with games, songs and refreshments. The young married couple will make their home in Plum Grove near Palatine.

Reese has reliable livery

It is a positive pleasure for the Herald to tell the public that U. A. Reese, Arlington Heights has a first class livery—good rigs suitable for any occasion and plenty of reliable, well fed and groomed horses always ready to travel with speed and get there quickly.

He sometimes elevates several of his carriages and hacks to the second story which is warmed by a big stove. The robes and blankets are hung up to dry, ready for any emergency and thus giving him more room to shelter teams from storms.

Make $22 at box social

The box social at Pfingsten school, Schaumburg, Saturday night was a great success. There were only 14 baskets, but by strenuous efforts of auctioneer H. E. Quindel aided by the patriotism of the gentlemen and artistic value of the boxes, $22 was realized, averaging $1.50 a box.

The performers distinguished themselves as usual and did not disappoint the audience who crowded the little schoolhouse. The music was beautiful and inspiring, so much so that some of the most sedate ladies could hardly keep their feet still.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

by Leland Ellis Truxell

Who is the baby in your home?

Several years ago while I was delivering mail, I passed a house where a family row was in full swing. Junior, age five, wanted to walk down to the store with Daddy — perhaps in the secret hope that he might wheedle him out of an ice cream cone or a sack of candy.

"Why don't you take him, Dave?" His mother, age twenty four, wanted to know. "After all, I've put up with him under my feet all day, till 'cant stand the sight of him." Then she added irritably, in an accusing voice," I actually think you don't like your own child!"

"Wah — I wanna go!" Junior interjected lustily.

"After I've been slaving all day at the office, you expect me to play nursemaid to a kid?" Father demanded in hurt surprise. "When I get home I want peace and quiet, a chance to relax. I'm tired! I can't lay around a house all day—"

"Lay around the house!"

"Wah —."

I never knew how it turned out. But here, friends, is a proof that many of us have never grown up. And I am inclined that if we each searched our own hearts, we could still find a great deal of the baby still there — the baby that wants what he wants, selfishly, without reason. The baby that cries in self pity if he is put to a little inconvenience because what he wants doesn't exactly agree with what the rest of the household desires, or is willing to comply with.

Are you the baby in your house? Can you control your emotion, live unselfishly, avoid petty irritations, be calm and collected, generous and considerate at all times? Or do you rant and rave when things don't go your way?

A good way to do is always to think of the other fellow's side first, when you are tempted to blow off steam, or burst into volleys of self pity at some real or fancied slight. Quite often you can see where you are wrong. More often than we care to admit we are what the other fellow tells us we are. It's hard to evaluate one's self honestly.

It Happened Here

A ten-year old boy and a perfect stranger fell into step with Peggy and began chatting. "Did you see that woman I was talking to? That's a grand woman, that is; she's my Sunday School teacher and I'm going to see her tomorrow. Carry your bag? That's so, it isn't very heavy. You know what, people do some queer things; why, a woman stopped at a news stand, dropped in a penny, picked up a quarter and hurried away, I saw her do it. I was so excited and nervous I did not know what to do, so I just walked past the stand and dropped in a quarter; those people need the money." . . . The lady gave the artist a spicy red rose and put it in a vase to fill the room with fragrance. Instantly, Diablo, the black cat, came to life; he reached and batted the stem, trying to get the rose; when the rose was held down for him he sat and sniffed ecstatically until the source of perfume was put safely out of his reach; then he found the wrappings the rose had come in, sniffed of the tissue paper, rolled in it and finally crawled into the sack.

A&P closes Barrington store for 4 months

Forced to vacate its present location on the corner of Hough and Main streets, the Barrington A and P store closed Saturday. The building has been leased to National Tea which will establish business in that location in the near future.

Having anticipated for some time the possibility of building a new and modern super mart, the company has accelerated its plans and has already made preparations for the new structure to be completed in about four months.

The card game, poker, is, in principle, almost as ancient as playing cards, but its name and present form of the game originated in the United States early in the 19th century.

Seek subsistence homes for elders

The Cook County Bureau of Public Welfare is greatly in need of boarding homes for its older clients who receive Old Age Pension. Joseph L. Moss, director of the Bureau, appeals to the people of Cook county to "open their homes to some man or woman who needs their help."

These are old men and women who are not strong or well enough to maintain their own homes Some need only board, room and help with bathing and dressing; others are bed-ridden and require considerable nursing care.

Families who take one or two such persons into their homes do not need a nursing home license; they will have no additional expense because from $59.00 to approximately $120.00 monthly—(exclusive of clothing, miscellaneous needs, and medical care)—can be included in the Old Age Penson grant. The amount varies according to the type of care required.

Mr Moss states that arrangements of this type have kept many old men and women out of already crowded institutions, and have made it possible for them to spend the few remaining years of their lives in pleasant family surroundings. He also said that not only are nursing homes urgently needed, but that many older persons requiring no nursing service, need board and room accommodations for which they are able to pay up to $45.00 each month.

Anyone interested in offering a home and nursing service to Old Age Pension recipients should write or telephone to Home finding service, Cook county bureau of Public Welfare, 1212 S. Kedzie ave., Chicago, telephone LAWndale 7765.

Tobacco Caused Trance

When Columbus came to America he found the natives inhaling tobacco to induce a state of trance, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica. During the trance they supposedly saw visions that were accepted as divine revelations.

The crow, not the bald eagle, is national bird

The bald eagle is the national bird of these United States. Benjamin Franklin thought the wild turkey more appropriate. Actually, however, the crow is the great American bird. Everybody knows him. If you know only four birds, one of them will be the crow. The wise resourceful crow is found everywhere east of the Rockies from northern Canada to the southern states.

He is big, black, wary, numerous and noisy. He is a thief and a robber who steals the eggs and young of songbirds and of the farmers' chickens. He pulls up and eats young corn. He is the scavenger that descends upon the carcasses of animals killed on highways but never gets killed himself. He signals and alarms the countryside when a hunter sneaks thru the woods. Some say he can count how many go in a cornfield and subtract how many came out. He's just too smart for us humans.

THE CROW is hunted, trapped, poisoned, bombed, and generally hated. Sportsmen, farmers, and state departments concerned with fish and game, stage elaborate crow hunts and organized destruction of the winter roosts where crows habitually congregate — sometimes by thousands and tens of thousands. Yet there are more crows in this country now that there were in 1942.

A CROW can be tamed and makes an interesting pet, though objects, such as jewelry or a silvery mischievous and thievish. ver spoon. Some can be trained They will steal and hide bright to talk

Illinois TAX FACTS

By George F. Mahin, Executive Secretary Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois

This is the fifth in a series of columns on the story behind your tax bill. Clip these columns until you have the complete story.

Your tax bill, if you live in a township organized county, includes taxes for township purposes—election expenses, compensation of township officers, (such as the supervisor, assessor, clerk), town hall expenses, town officers' expenses, payment of principal and interest on any outstanding bonds or judgments rendered against the town, and expenses necessary for relief of the poor of the town.

The budget and tax levy for township government are determined at a town meeting of citizens of the township held on the first Tuesday of April in each year. Those present at the town meeting actually determine by their vote the amount of the budget and tax levy for township purposes.

In most township counties the budget and tax levy include the cost of making township assessments. In some townships in Cook county outside of Chicago, the assessments are made by deputies appointed by the county assessor and the cost is paid by the county treasury.

The establishment of parks, libraries, the operation of cemeteries and the eradication of thistles may be undertaken by townships by vote of the citizens present at the town meeting. There also may be established an annuity and benefit fund, but this can be done only by referendum.

There is also adopted at the town meeting a budget and tax levy for poor relief. The township may obtain state aid for poor relief if the tax levy of the township for this purpose necessitates a tax rate of at least 10c on each $100 of 100%.

The township tax also includes a tax for road and bridge purposes. The road and bridge fund is under the direction of an elected highway commissioner who prepares the tentative budget and tax levy for this purpose.

Commission organized counties are divided into road districts, each under a highway commissioner and a clerk elected for 4 years. The tax bill of every taxpayer in a commission county includes a tax for the local road and bridge district.

In both the township and commission organized counties, a budget and appropriation ordinance must be prepared for the road and bridge fund by the highway commissioner and at least one public hearing must be held thereon. Notice must be given of the hearing by publication in a newspaper, if there is one published in the road district or township. If there is no such newspaper, the notice must be posted in five of the most public places in the township or road district. After the hearing, the budget and tax levy are finally determined by the highway commissioner.

Where a city, village or incorporated town is in whole or in part within the township or road district, and the boundaries are not the same, one-half of the road and bridge fund tax on the village or city property must be paid to the municipality, and the street and bridge tax of the municipality must be reduced by that amount. Where the boundaries of the city, village or incorporated town are the same as the boundaries of the township or road district, the municipality makes the street and bridge levy and none is made by the township or road district.

As a result of legislation enacted by the last General Assembly it is now possible to consolidate townships or road districts for road purposes, and for townships or road districts by mutual agreement to lease or exchange road machinery, tools and equipment.

Many vets study abroad

The number of World War II veterans studying abroad under the GI Bill has increased almost 350 per cent during the past year, Veterans Administration said today.

At the beginning of the current year, 6,055 ex-servicemen and women were studying in 422 schools and colleges in 44 countries. At the same time last year, the total enrollment abroad was 1,307.

Almost half, or 2,741, of present veteran-students are enrolled in educational institutions in the Philippine Islands. VA said the large enrollment there comprises mostly Fhlipinos who served in the U. S. armed forces during the war.

The next largest student group is in Canada where 883 veterans are enrolled. France ranks third with 635, followed by Mexico with 461, Switzerland with 427, and Great Britain with 356.

Bankers fight against inflation

The fight against inflation is being carried to the grass roots by the Illinois Bankers association according to Secretary Harry C. Hausman.

A letter has been addressed to the presidents of all County Bankers Federations in Illinois giving them full information on the anti-inflation program of the American Bankers association.

The County Federation presidents are requested to call a meeting of their federations as soon as possible to discuss all phases of the program. In these meetings throughout the state emphasis will be placed on the proper use of credit and bankers will be urged to discourage all types of loans of a speculative nature that might add to the forces of inflation by creating competition for raw materials. Lions that will aid the production and processing of necessary goods are to be definitely encouraged.

Mr. Hausman emphasized that the Illinois Bankers association is in full accord with the program of the American Bankers association for the voluntary self policing of credit by individual banks. This program, if properly carried out, will show that the proposed controls by government are unnecessary, undesirable and detrimental to the proper financing of the national economy.

Modern Etiquette

by ROBERTA LEE

Q. What advances should the two families make as soon as a marriage engagement has been announced to the immediate families?

A. The mother and sisters of the groom should call immediately on the girl and her family, express their approval, and extend a sincere welcome to the girl. Then, within a few days, the girl and her family should return the call.

Q. If the coffee or tea is extremely hot, and one is in a hurry, isn't it permissible to pour it into the saucer to cool?

A. No, never. Merely exercise a little patience, and it will soon be cool enough.

Q. When one is introducing Mr. Jones to Mr. Smith, is it proper to say, "Mr. Jones, my friend, Mr. Smith?"

A. Not if Mr. Jones is also a friend. This expression implies that Mr. Smith only is your friend.

Q. What are the exceptions when a woman guest should rise to acknowledge an introduction to a man?

A. When the man is her host, the guest of honor, or an elderly man. She should also rise when being introduced to an elderly woman.

Q. What is the most popular closing for a business letter?

A. "Yours truly" or "Yours very truly."

Q. If one is attending a dinner or banquet where wine is being served, and one does not care to drink it, what should one do?

A. Follow the old-fashioned custom of turning your glass upside down. The waiter will then understand that he is to pass you by.

Q. When a wedding engagement has been broken, what should the girl return to the man?

A. All gifts of jewelry, including the engagement ring, all photograps and letters.

Q. Is it all right to ask a person to return books which he has borrowed?

A. Yes. If a reasonable length of time has elapsed, one need not hesitate to do so.

Q. Does it make any difference who speaks first when a married woman and a single woman meet on the street?

A. According to the old rules, if the acquaintance was slight, the married woman was supposed to speak first. But now it makes no difference who speaks first.

Q. What is the correct way to eat hot bread?

A. Break the bread with the fingers; never cut it.

Vet students

Seventy-one per cent of the 620 new students who enrolled for the spring semester at Illinois Institute of Technology are veterans, Warren S. Sivertsen, director of admissions, reported today.

Of the total, 308 are freshmen; the remainder are advanced, special, or former students who have returned to Illinois Tech. Veterans make up 59 per cent of the freshmen.

Civil service examinations

The Executive Secretary of the Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners for the War Department, Quartermaster Depot, 1819 W. Pershing road, Chicago, announced that applications would be accepted at that office until the needs of the service have been met, from persons interested in positions in the field of food research and development. Research positions in the fields of Chemistry, Microbiology, Nutrition, Physics and Physiology pay entrance salaries ranging from $3397 to $8179 a year; in the field of food products development, from $4149 to $8179 a year.

Glenview to ask more school funds

Board of Education of the Glenview public schools at its regular meeting last Tuesday, authorized the calling of a special election on Saturday, March 6, at which time the qualified electors of the district will be asked to approve the issuing of $137,000 in bonds for the purpose of completing the new elementary school at Waukegan and Lake avenues.

The board is scheduling two public meetings to present the facts to the people. These meetings are to be held on Tuesday, March 2, at the Rugen school at 8 p. m. and on Thursday, March 4, at the Glenview school at 8 p. m.

Farmers check equipment for farrowing time

Although some 1948 spring litters of pigs have already been farrowed, the bulk of farrowing will take place in March and the first week or two in April. The high prices of pigs and of feed already invested in the sow will make 1948 litters the most valuable on record. It's not too early, then, to begin checking housing and equipment in order to be prepared to care for this crop of pigs.

Sanitation is taken for granted in a good program. Clean the farrowing quarters thoroughly with boiling lye water. Provide good ventilation, but try to eliminate drafts and dampness. If floors are concrete a "cot" of boards laid flat on the concrete and held together by a two-by-four on edge may help to keep the pigs warm and dry. The cot may occupy two-thirds to three-fourths of the pen space and be used to hold the bedding. Install guard rails eight inches above the floor.

THE USE of pig brooders is particularly effective in farrowing houses that are inclined to be damp or drafty, and also in some older type houses with too much head room. Be prepared to take care of pigs farrowed in cold weather. Artificial heat may well be justified in a cold farrowing house this year.

If pigs are farrowed in individual houses use corn cobs or some other material to insulate the houses underneath. For early farrowing, also bank the material along the rear and sides. Arrange the houses and panels so that the person who cares for sows and litters will need to do a minimum amount of walking and climbing fences.

MATILDA FOREMAN

The will of Mrs. Matilda Foreman, late of Palatine, who died Nov. 17, has been admitted to probate in Chicago. She left an estimated $24,000 estate equally to her four children. They are: John Foreman Delavan, Wis., Ray Foreman, Ella Bedurske and Cora Mess, all of Palatine. Cora was named executrix of the will.

During Depressions COMPETITIVE INDUSTRIES Have HIGH Production and LOW Prices

But CONTROLLED INDUSTRIES Have LOW Production and HIGH Prices

Prepared in Department of Agricultural Economics, College of Agriculture, University of Illinois

Agriculture and Food Products

Millions of farmers compete in the production of farm products. Likewise, thousands of people in the wholesale and retail trade compete in the processing and distribution of foods. During depressions production of food and fiber is maintained at a high level while prices drop sharply.

Petroleum and Textiles

Production of both petroleum and textiles is maintained at a high level during depressions. Like farm products, prices fall sharply and thus make it possible for consumers to continue to buy these products.

Iron and Steel and Motor Vehicles

A few companies produce most of the steel and motor vehicles produced in this country. During depressions prices of these products are maintained at a high level. Consumption falls off and this forces a drastic decline in production.

Farm Machinery and Cement

Farm machinery and cement are likewise produced by a few companies. During depressions prices are held at a high level. Consumption falls off and many factories close down or run only one or two days a week.

Income to Farmers and Wage-earners

City people furnish the major demand for farm products. If the purchasing power of farmers and wage-earners is to be held at a high level year-in and year-out, it is imperative that ways be found to prevent drastic declines in the production of our large, mass-production industries.

Roland W. Bartlett, Professor Agricultural Economics University of Illinois

Questions on G. I. bill

Question: I am a veteran and interested in going into business for myself. How does a veteran go about getting a loan for business purposes?

Answer: As in case of a home loan, he first must find a bank or other recognized lending institution willing to advance him the money.

Question: Can a veteran get a G. I. business loan to buy a pleasure car or furniture for his home?

Answer: No. The loan must be used by the veteran for business purposes only.

Question: Under the amended G. I. Bill, what is the maximum time of training a veteran can receive on an apprenticeship or on-the-job-training?

Answer: The maximum training period is two years for on-the-job training and four years for apprentice training.

Question: I am attending school under the G. I. Bill. During the summer vacation months am I entitled to the $20 weekly Readjustment Allowance?

Answer: Yes, but applicants must be ready, willing and able to accept full-time employment if offered to them.

Small sugar beet acreage in 1948 would have repercussions

Recent unsettled conditions of the commodity market points up the theory that a high individual farm acreage allotment for sugar beets might be a good thing for the midwest in years to come, in the opinion of representatives of the industry.

"There is no one who can profess to know with any certainty just what farm crops will bring when harvest rolls around this fall," says Arthur A. Schupp, executive secretary, Farmers & Manufacturers Beet Sugar association. "To say that farmers were disturbed by recent price declines is putting it mildly.

"Sugar beets were the mainstay cash crop in the depression thirties and a highly profitable crop during the recovery and war years.

"If we ever encounter another depression, or even a recession, and farmers do not have adequate sugar beet acreage allotments, they may be hit very hard. If their sugar beet acreage allotment is low it means they must plant a larger acreage of an already surplus crop and multiply the downward price spiral of these crops."

Accrediting agencies rate school 'superior'

Are you a parent of one or more of the 724 students enrolled in the Arlington Heights township high school?

Are you about to be a parent of a high school "freshie?"

Then you'll be interested in this article because it explains the academic standing of the township school and answers questions like "Is your school fully accredited?" and "Why is this an advantage?"

THE ARLINGTON Heights township school is fully accredited by three groups, the state superintendent of public instruction, the University of Illinois and the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary schools.

Each of these organizations, according to Principal LeRoy Knoeppel, has policies and requirements with which schools must comply to receive accrediting.

THE NCA, largest of the three groups, has a geopraphic scope of twenty north central states, whereas the other two are confined to Illinois.

Lowell B. Fischer, of the University of Illinois, supervises the activities of the NCA in this state.

"The NCA demands high quality in instruction and teacher spirit," Principal Knoeppel states.

"IT ALSO insists on first quality standards for the school plant and hygenic conditions, instructional equipment and supplies, the library, school records, administrative policies and practices, teacher and pupil load and the educational program."

When asked what the advantages were of being rated as an accredited school, Mr. Knoeppel said:

"THE ACCREDITING label generally is looked upon as the mark of a superior school because the association accredits only those school which possess commendable teachers, standards of scholarship and equipment.

"The advantages of such membership, therefore, mean that the recognized school is more likely to offer a wider range of services to its pupils and the community than a non-accredited school."

The NCA does not have legal standing and does not desire such. It is a purely cooperative group which imposes no decisions and whose recommendations are only advisory.

ANY SCHOOL which meets the standards can apply for membership. A member school can withdraw from the NCA at any time it wishes.

"Of course," Principal Knoeppel asserts, "any school which is unable or unwilling to maintain the standards to which it has voluntarily subscribed may be dropped from membership after several warnings."

THE ORGANIZATION'S three aims include (1) the promotion of cooperation between the colleges and secondary schools in the territory, (2) the consideration and solving of common educational problems and (3) the promotion of the physical, intellectual and moral well-being of students by improving educational conditions.

In recent years the NCA has reached beyond the mechanics of accreditization. It has strived to develop sound educational policies based on extensive research in order to help a school become a more effective community educational center.

From an historical point of view, the association was founded in 1895 with Illinois as one of the seven charter members. In 1904, the year in which the NCA first published its accredited list of secondary schools, there was a total of only 156 member high schools in the ten states then comprising the territory.

AMONG THE twenty north central states now in the group, the NCA includes forty-eight junior colleges and 270 colleges and universities. The association also has accredited 3,037 high schools enrolling 1,490,699 pupils. Of the 3,037 high schools, 456 are from the state of Illinois.

The NCA constitution provides for three standing commissions, an executive committee, special committees and the general association.

THE THREE commissions and the work they do are the commission on colleges and universities, which accredits higher institutions; the commission on research and service, which investigates educational procedures; and the commission on secondary schools, which seeks to lead secondary schools towards higher standards of educational service.

The work of this last commission is conducted in each state through an NCA state committee.

The territory-wide commission on secondary schools is composed of members from the twenty states and eighteen other persons elected for a three-year term by the commission and subject to the approval of the association. One-third of this number is chosen each year.

THE TIME and place of the annual meeting, usually in March or April, are determined by the association. Any individual connected with a university, college or secondary schools that is a member of the NCA may attend the meeting as may anyone else interested in the problems of secondary education.

Each accredited group sends one voting representative to the convention, chosen by that institution.

South church Yomarcos to have progressive dinner

The Yomarcos, young married couples, sponsored by the South church, Mt. Prospect, will hold a progressive dinner Friday evening beginning at 7:00 o'clock. First stop is scheduled for the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Applehans, 404 N. Wille st. This will be followed by four other stops in different homes at each of which the group will be served a part of their dinner.

The final stop of the schedule will be in the spacious basement room at the home of the parents of Bob Carncross in Arlington Heights. Here the group will be served a dessert and the entertainment program for the evening will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. LeFevre of Des Plaines are presidents of the group, which is made up of young married couples either or both of whom must be 31 years of age or under. Participation in the group's activities is open to all young couples regardless of their church connection. Programs are non-sectarian and of a nature to minister to the intellectual, home and social needs of the age group involved.

Mt. Prospect Jr. Walther League team win over Arlington

Mt. Prospect Jr. Walther League team won an easy 53-21 victory over St. Peters Jr. Walther League team of Arlington Sunday, February 22, in the last game of the season.

Mt. Prospect got off to a good start and held the lead all through the game with H. Sporleder accounting for 20 points.

The local squad lost two games in the first half of the season and two games in the last half putting them out of the running for the championship.

Lesson in English

by W. L. GORDON

Words often misused

Do not say, "Fruit of every description was on the table." Say, "Fruit of every kind."

Do not say, "I was talking with a party who said they were there." Say, "I was talking with a man, (woman, or child) who said he (or, she) was there."

Do not say, "This statement was proven." Say, was proved."

Do not say, "Either you or I are going." Say, "Either you or I am going," the verb agreeing with the subject immediately before it.

Do not say, "Immediately the entertainment ended he left the hall." Say, "As soon as the entertainment ended."

Do not say, "Let's don't quarrel about it.' Say, "Let's not quarrel about it."

Words often mispronounced

Atrocity. Pronounce a-tros-i-ti, o as in of, not as in no, and accent second syllable.

Livelong and long-lived. The i is pronounced as in it in livelong and as in ice in long-lived.

Grimace (a distortion of the countenance). Pronounce gri-mas, i as in it, a as in ace, and accent last syllable, not the first.

Leonine. Pronounce le-o-nin, e as in me, o as in no unstressed, i as in nine, accent first syllable.

Monosyllabic. Pronounce mon-o-si-lab-ik, with accent on fourth syllable.

Nihilism. Pronounce ni-hi-liz'm, first i as in night, second i as in it, accent first syllable.

Words often misspelled

Humorous (jocular). Humerus (a bone in the arm). Hail (frozen raindrops). Hale (healthy). Ammeter; two m's. Amethyst; one m. Ecstatic; observe the ecs, not ex. Magnate; a person of influence. Magnet; something which attracts. Eaves; lower edges of a roof. Ever; the close of day.

Word study

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

Mutable; capable of change in form, qualities, or nature. "Nature is a mutable cloud, which is always and never the same." — Emerson.

Fragmentary; composed of fragments; not complete. "Our only evidence was fragmentary."

Captious; apt to catch at faults. "A vulgar man is captious and jealous." — Chesterfield.

Ordinate (adjective); well-ordered; regular; methodical. "A life blissful and ordinate." — Chaucer.

Avid; eager; greedy. (pronounce the a as in at). "Avid curiosity prompted the question."

Gradation; any degree or relative position in an order of series. "The several gradations of the intelligent universe." — I. Taylor.

Journal of a Bird Watcher

F. J. FREEMAN

March (1947) — The weatherman says that this past February has been the coldest one in thirty-five years. March has continued wintry but with the coming of that month, we always snatch at signs of spring. The young willow switches show a brighter yellow and the red and orange dogwood also show a quickening of color. Usually about the first of March—the fourth this year—we hear the song sparrow sing down by the creek in Itasca, and never is there a more welcome song.

March 6th—This evening driving home Cornelia and I were excited to see what we thought was our first flock of migrating geese. There were two formations of large birds of sixteen and nine in number flying east with slow and steady wing beats. When we got our glasses trained on them, they turned out to be gulls! We were surprised as we had never suspected gulls of flying in formation but always thought of them as soaring and sailing independently.

March 9th—This Sunday afternoon Cornelia, the boys and I went to the Morton Arboretum. After walking around a bit in the west end and seeing only three or four birds, we started back to the car in disgust thinking that the Arboretum was not much of a bird place after all. As we drew near the car we saw a flock of birds light in a tree top. As we came up to the tree a party of four elderly people with binoculars trained on the birds arrived. We counted fifty-nine cedar waxwings, one female evening grosbeak and one purple finch. One of the old ladies took pains to impress upon us our good fortune in having seen an evening grosbeak, and breathed her deep gratitude to the others that she was privileged once again to see the bird! We felt grateful too but without any sense of finality.

March 10th—Real spring sky and sun. Snow and ice on north side and under pine trees dry and hard, but where the sun hits the ground there is slush and mud. Heard the western meadowlark today and saw the red-shouldered hawk wheeling high over Elk Grove and crying Kee-you! Kee-you!

March 12th — Today saw my first killdeer, mallard, pintail and black ducks of this spring. Also saw my first flock of redwings arrive—about fifty males.

March 17th — Flocks of redwings and grackles are streaming north. About fifty to the flock is their size when they get this far north.

March 22nd — Cornelia and I attended the 7th Annual Chicagoland Bird-Banding conference at the Chicago Academy of Science in Lincoln Park. Found that the hard chairs were more than we could cope with and left at the first intermission. Looked for ducks in Belmont harbor and added red-breasted and American mergansers, golden-eye, old squaw and scaup ducks to our spring list.

March 29th—Went duck hunting today. At Prospect Heights slough I found one pintail; Barrington slough mallard, scaup and gulls; lake near riding academy at Barrington, three golden-eye, back ducks and mallard; Eustace estate black ducks, pintail, scaup, mallard, one green-winged teal, altogether about two hundred birds.

March 31st — The weather is balmy though cloudy this last day of the month. March followed the old saying this year: it came in like a lion and went out like a lamb — though leaving many wooly snow drifts in the ditches.

Given Silver Beaver award by Scouts

Cecil A. Nixon, scoutmaster and district commissioner, was awarded the "Silver Beaver" citation for "distinguished service to boyhood" at the annual dinner meeting of the Northwest Suburban council, Boy Scouts of America, recently. Otto E. Harz, last year's recipient, made the presentation.

Mr. Nixon, Skokie, is the 18th scout leader to be selected for this honor by the local council since the award was authorized by the national council in 1932. With the exception of the "Silver Buffalo" award, five of which are awarded each year in the United States, the "Silver Beaver" is the highest recognition which scouting confers upon adult leaders, usually, but not necessarily, active in Boy Scout work.

Mr. Nixon started scouting in 1939 as a member of a Cub Pack committee. Two years later he took over the duties of cubmaster and as his son progressed along the scout trail, Mr. Nixon became scoutmaster, a commission he still holds. He was elected to the executive board of the Northwest Suburban council in 1946 and last year was appointed district organization and extension chairman and has now been elected district commissioner for the Skokie Valley district.

He Died Too Soon

Of the contributions which Louis Pasteur made to humanity and medical science, the greatest is the one whose value he did not live to see. He died in 1895, but pasteurization of milk—with its untold saving of lives—was not developed until later. Pasteur's research was prompted by a desire to protect the wines of French sailors who complained that on long voyages their wines turned vinegary, a sad state of affairs for a Frenchman.

Offer inducements to all veterans for air force

Qualified veterans of any of the armed services can join the new United States air force and receive a non-commissioned grade up to the rank of Technical Sergeant, S/Sgt. Thomas L. Rocco of the local recruiting office said today.

"The awarding of grades is based on the amount of skill and experience which the veteran has in any of some 300 specialties," the sergeant said. "This new opportunity, which also is open to former officers, is designed to insure that our jet-age air force has the most technically skilled manpower in the world."

Former officers, who qualify, are eligible for grades up to Master Sergeant. The offer for both enlisted men and officers applies to veterans who saw service in the air force, army, navy, coast guard or marines.

The sergeant pointed out that "the Air Force Technical Sergeant today nets a considerably higher income than the average veteran realizes in civilian life. In addition, he has interesting and inspiring work in the field of aviation research and development."

Eligibility requirements include: 20 to 26½ years of age, unmarried, two or more years of college, or be able to pass an equivalent educational examination. A candidate also must have a sound physique and be in excellent health.

Training lasts for 12 months, and graduates are commissioned as 2nd Lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve. If they wish to make the Air Force a career, they have an opportunity to apply for a regular air force commission.

March 15 Tax Quiz

Q. How and where do I deduct expenses of my job? A. You must use Form 1040 in order to deduct such expenses, since use of your Withholding Statement gives you an allowance of approximately 10 per cent of your income for deductions. "Job expenses" are divided into two classes: First, reimbursed expenses and travel expenses can be deducted in Item 2, Page 1, of Form 1040; second, all other ordinary and necessary expenses allowed by law, such as union dues, tools and safety equipment, can be deducted only as Miscellaneous Deductions, Page 3, Form 1040, only when used as a long-form return.

Q. Where on Form 1040 do I enter various kinds of income? A. Wages go in Item 2, Page 1, dividends in Item 3, Page 1, and interest in Item 4, Page 1. All other kinds of income must be explained in schedules on Page 2, and their total shown in Item 5, Page 1.

Q. What is the purpose of the schedules on Page 2, Form 1040? A. These are: Schedule A for annuities, Schedule B for rents and royalties, Schedule C for business or professional income, Schedule D for capital gains, and Schedule E for income from partnerships, estates and trusts. They are a convenient method of comparing gross receipts with deductible costs to determine taxable "adjusted gross income."

Q. What is meant by "depreciation"? A. Depreciation is a deduction allowed by law against certain types of income-producing property so that the owner can recover taxfree over a period of years equal to the normal life of the property, the cost of the property.

Q. What are "capital gains"? A. They are profits from the sale or exchange of investment property, such as real estate, bonds, commodities, automobiles, etc.

Everyone's Aunt

Ants converse with their antennae. The antennae are thought to combine hearing, smelling and touch senses. Ants have mass marriages and fly together on their honeymoon.

What is it worth to YOU?

What is it worth
as your sentinel of safety through the long, dark reaches of the night . . .
When it summons quickly the calming voice of a dear one or brings in time the healing presence of the doctor . . .

What is it worth
as your cheerful servant
that never falters through the busiest day . . .
When it makes easier the routine tasks of buying, selling, hearing, telling, asking, advising, ordering, revising . . .

What is it worth
in the thousands of steps, the countless moments it saves you . . .
When it bridges time and space, sweeps away the loneliness and keeps your world within ever-ready reach of your hand . . .

What is it worth?
Put your own price tag upon it.
And know that, always,
we are striving to make it worth more in accuracy, dependability and in a friendly spirit that to us is a tradition.
